

WILL KRUTTSCHNITT ANSWER DEMAND OF LABOR UNIONS?

Machinists' Ultimatum Set Today Noon as a Limit.

MORE ARE ON STRIKE

Kline Refuses to Discuss Probability of General Walkout.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Vice President Julius Kruttschnitt of the Illinois Central railroad, his secretary announced tonight, will probably make a statement tomorrow on the labor situation on his lines.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27.—With the outbreak of forty-eight Illinois Central car workers and ten sheet metal workers, the ranks of the strikers here were increased today to 770. The machinists, who were ready to strike were held back by today's advances from their international officers.

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Sept. 27.—Officials attending the convention of the international machinists here today said that machinists on the Illinois Central would be ordered on strike tomorrow noon unless officials of the railroad agreed to recognize the new Federation of Railway Employees.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—No answer was received today from Vice-President Kruttschnitt of the Southern Pacific Railroad, by James W. Kline, president of the blacksmiths and helpers' international union, in reply to its demand for reopening of negotiations with the federation of railway employees.

The final time limit set will expire at noon tomorrow. If by then no action has been taken by the railroad, the international unions composing the federation plan to hold another conference and decide upon their future course.

The message to Kruttschnitt apparently left the impression that the alternative of withdrawing their demands for recognition of the federation, or calling a strike. The failure of the latter course, union officials have pointed out, previously caused them to hesitate to send out the strike order to employees of the Southern Pacific and Illinois Central.

Now that the international officials have the backing of the five crafts' unions in the federation of the Southern Pacific employees and of the Illinois Central employees, they assert they no longer have any cause for delaying final action.

"I never have said a strike might be called," said President Kline today. "I do not want to tell about a strike or say anything that will force the situation."

"I cannot say what we will decide to do in case that Kruttschnitt does not answer our message. That will have to be decided after it becomes known that he will not meet again with us."

DARROW MAY STILL DEMAND NEW JUDGE

Says He Is Still Anxious to Begin McNamara Trial at Once.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—Clarence S. Darrow, leading counsel for the McNamara brothers, said tonight that he and his associates will be unduly anxious to ask that a jurist other than Judge Bordwell hear the trial of their clients. Although Darrow stated today that he and his associates were anxious to go to trial with the McNamara case and were ready to be ready when it was called October 11th, he declared tonight that the inference that they probably would not move for a change of judges was not to be drawn from that statement.

SLICES OFF THREE FINGERS WHILE ARGUING SUFFRAGE

LONG BEACH, Sept. 27.—Arthur Savage, a young man from San Francisco, with prominent ideas on the suffrage question, sliced off three fingers today while engaged in a hot debate on his favorite subject with the cook of the restaurant where he is employed.

Savage was engaged in slicing bread, and became so engrossed in driving home a strong point in favor of votes for women that he got careless and, making a misstep, pushed the sharp edge through the first three fingers of his left hand. He picked the pieces up, rushed to a doctor's office where they were sewed on with the glad announcement that nothing but a few scars would remain Savage of his martyrdom for the cause.

SETTLER DRIVEN FROM HIS CLAIM

Cabin Is Destroyed By Agents of White Lumber Company.

UKIAH, Cal., Sept. 27.—Struggles between settlers and the L. E. White Lumber Company for the possession of rich timberlands along Alder creek reached a crisis again today when H. E. Warren, a settler, was driven off a claim. Warren's cabin was razed and he was warned not to come back.

The settlers who already have petitioned Secretary of the Interior Walter L. Fisher, admit that they await with fear the next move of the lumber company imported into the territory. Efforts to persuade women to leave the clearings and let their husbands fight it out alone have proved futile. They will not go.

Officials of the lumber company maintain that the disputed land belongs to them and that they have paid for all of it from one to three times.

TRIPOLITANS HYSTERICAL

Turkish Reinforcements Come Under Shadow of Italian Fleet.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The correspondence of the Chronicle in a late dispatch from Tripoli, says: "All business has been stopped and great excitement prevails. The Turkish steamers Derna entered the harbor within view of the whole Italian fleet, which apparently had been watching her for many miles. She landed 100 soldiers, several boxes of ammunition and rifles. It is expected the fleet will now take steps to occupy the city. At any moment the fleet could have stopped the Derna, but refrained. I understand, under orders of the Italian government.

"The news spread like wildfire. Turkish soldiers swarmed about the harbor yelling threats against Italy's fleet. The latter are in an anomalous position of an attack.

"The Italian consul is withholding all newspapers from Italy in order to avoid increasing the anxiety. The Turkish families were preparing to flee, but the local committee of the union of progress issued an order that Turkish subjects must not leave town. They should be forcibly restrained if necessary.

"The Turks are endeavoring to induce the Arabs to contribute to the defense of the town, but have not met with much success."

The Constantinople correspondent of Reuters' Telegraph Company sends a dispatch dated Tripoli which gives the report of an impending Italian landing.

It is confirmed that German is using her good offices to secure a settlement. The censorship maintained in Italy is so rigorous that it is difficult to learn the exact state of affairs. There is no confirmation that Italy has presented an ultimatum setting a time limit, though undoubtedly she has warned Turkey against dispatching troops and war materials to Tripoli.

FISHER FAVORS LEASING OF COAL LAND IN ALASKA

President Will Recommend Action to Coming Congress.

BRYAN MAKES SPEECH Third National Conservation Congress Has Adjourned.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 27.—After William J. Bryan had spoken tonight before a large audience in Convention hall, the third national conservation congress finally adjourned.

When Bryan entered the hall, his oration lasted ten minutes. He finally pleaded for silence and the crowd acquiesced.

"Conservation," said Bryan, "is a subject that grows. It begins, for instance, with the consideration of forestry and you are confronted with the soil question. Agricultural colleges are the panacea of farm life then come before you."

"But at last you come to the matter of social conditions. This is the question of man himself. His health, his hopes, his character are the great controlling principles that govern life and conduct. These become primarily subjects and all other forms of conservation become methods through which he works out the problem of advancement."

FISHER FOR LEASING. Bryan was on the platform when Walter L. Fisher, secretary of the Interior, addressed the congress today on the subject of conservation of the Public Domain.

Secretary Fisher strongly urged the leasing of government owned coal lands, with particular reference to those in Alaska.

"I have been in Alaska and British Columbia," he said, "studying the mining laws in British Columbia. What can we have the same kind of a law? It retains the land in the control of the government, affords a permanent return and prevents the exhaustion of the land in a few years. But most important of all, it prevents the hoarding of the land and subsequent development by capitalists."

As to the situation regarding government coal lands in the West, Fisher said: "I have learned that there are a lot of men who want control of the coal lands and hold them. They don't want to give the public a chance, but want to hoard the lands so they will make money for their progeny a million years hence."

The speaker said the government holdings were small and that a low valuation was placed upon them by the government.

Fisher said, speaking of his investigations in Alaska: "I have gone over the situation there with the President and we agree on the general policy. It ought to be followed. He has told me he will prepare an outline for legislation on the question and that he will present it to Congress."

LEASING IS FAVORED. The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted including a recommendation of the early opening of the coal lands and other resources of Alaska for industrial and commercial purposes on a system of leasing.

"National ownership," he continued, "pending such development of that portion of our territory as to permit the creation of states within its area; and as a means of promoting industry and commerce in Alaska we approve the leasing of necessary highways, railroads and terminal facilities by the national government."

It is understood that Germany is trying diplomatically to arrange an understanding but there is no hope that it will effect all success.

PLEA FOR ITALY. PARIS, Sept. 27.—The Italian embassy here today authorized the declaration that Italy seeks satisfaction from Turkey for a number of recent incidents. Among the "incidents" are the continuing arrest of Italian subjects at Constantinople and their imprisonment despite all the Italian government's protest; the seizure of an Italian girl from her parents by an Ottoman agent; the refusal of the Turkish authorities to demand satisfaction for these affronts and guarantees for the future.

Taft CONCLUDES KANSAS JOURNEY, WITH 22 TALKS

Off to Spend Two Days Among the Iowa Farmers.

TALKS ARBITRATION Advocates the Building Up of a Skeleton Army.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Sept. 27.—President Taft ended his four days' visit to Kansas here tonight and departed for Iowa, where he will spend two days before again heading for the far west. Today Taft visited Topeka, Atchison and Leavenworth, stopping on a routine appearance on the back platform of his train in response to the cheers of depot throngs.

In all Taft traveled 845 miles in Kansas, and made twenty-two formal speeches. He wound up here with a discussion of the tariff, during which he again explained his veto on an again asserted his willingness to sign any tariff bill based upon the forthcoming report of the tariff board.

Taft expressed himself today as delighted with his reception in Kansas. Great crowds have turned out to greet him, and at Topeka this morning Taft faced a throng in the capital plaza estimated at between 40,000 and 50,000.

In order that all might see him, the President mounted a table. "I am sincerely grateful to the people of Kansas," said the President tonight, "not only for the warm welcome which they extended to me as President of the United States, but for the kindly attention which they gave to what I said."

ALL FACTIONS PRESENT. At Topeka the President held the corner stone of the memorial building that the state of Kansas is erecting to the Grand Army of the Republic, and the presence of old soldiers in his audience at the capital plaza led Taft to a discussion of peace and armaments. He expressed support of the army service treaties recently negotiated with Great Britain and France. Following the President's speech, Senator Curtis came out in a statement favoring the ratification of the compact. He is the third senator, publicly and personally to pledge support to the President on the treaties since Taft's trip began.

FOR SKELETON ARMY. Taft arrived in Leavenworth at 4 p. m. and remained until 10:35. He made his tariff address in the open air and then motored to Fort Leavenworth, where he briefly addressed the police and took their first step in an effort to clear up the mystery of several deaths in the family.

Three other members of the Crawford family have died under mysterious circumstances within the last few months. Eliza died last Friday and under conditions so suspicious that the coroner had the contents of the stomach analyzed. The finding of enough morphine to kill at least two persons was followed by the arrest of the sister.

Mary Agnes Crawford, sister of the prisoner, died June 25, 1910, supposedly of acute meningitis. Three weeks later, July 15, 1910, her father died, dramatic poisoning being given as the cause. On July 23, 1910, her mother died. In her case, dramatic poisoning also was given as the cause.

Annie Crawford, the prisoner, held insurance policies on the lives of the deceased in the following sums: Walter C. Crawford, father, $500; Mrs. Crawford, mother, $400; Mary Agnes Crawford, sister, $300; Eliza Crawford, sister, $250.

She collected the insurance in each case except in that of her sister, Eliza, payment of which was withheld pending the receipt of the death. For several years Annie Crawford had charge of the drug department of the Presbyterian hospital. She lost her position more than a year ago, following the disappearance of a quantity of drugs.

PROPOSE FARM COURSES FOR ALL SCHOOLS

(Special to the Republican.) SACRAMENTO, Sept. 27.—When the state university life commission meets at the State University farm at Davis in October, it will take important action to have future study and agricultural subjects taught in all grammar and high schools.

Copies of the resolutions intended to be adopted have reached State Superintendent of Schools Hyatt. They call for the teaching of agriculture in all schools, and for the promotion of these studies have been worked out calling for the incorporation of nature studies and farm subjects in the courses of study prepared for school. They provide that teachers be instructed in these subjects; that supervisors be named to add in the work; that high schools be paid $500 per year for a one-year technical course in agriculture for a two-year course, and that all schools having teachers regularly in State Agricultural College professors be paid $500 extra. The commission also wants school buildings open for public gatherings.

TO SAIL FROM SAN DIEGO. VALLEJO, Sept. 28.—Word was received today that the Pacific cruise ship, the Pacific, will sail from San Diego instead of San Francisco as had been previously announced.

DR. RUPERT BLUE INVESTIGATING "PLAGUE" CASE

(Special to the Republican.) MODESTO, Sept. 27.—Dr. Rupert Blue and his assistants arrived in Modesto last evening and today investigated the work that is being done by the federal camps who are exterminating the squirrels in this vicinity. The discovery of a Lebonie plague case near Rhion, 2 miles north of here, was the primary cause of Dr. Blue's personal attention. He states that the case is undoubtedly bubonic plague and intends to inaugurate drastic measures to stamp out the disease.

The numbers of Stanislaus are now raising funds to be used by the government officials in killing the squirrels, the ultimate intention being to kill all of the rodents on 123 sections of land—where squirrels carrying the plague germs have been discovered.

AUTO PLUNGES INTO THE SEINE

Eleven Drowned and Ten Others Hurt in Accident at Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—Eleven persons were drowned and ten others injured by the overturning of an automobile bus into the Seine this afternoon. The vehicle, with twenty-five passengers, was half way over the Archambault bridge when, in trying to avoid a collision with another omnibus, the chauffeur gave his steering wheel a sharp turn. The heavy vehicle slid, shot onto the sidewalk, crashed into the heavy iron railing and dropped into the river. All the passengers were carried down with the exception of two or three who jumped. Ten bodies were recovered.

GIRL ARRESTED AS FEMALE NERO

Suspected of Poisoning Parents and Sisters for Insurance.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 27.—In the arrest here today of Annie Crawford on the charge of poisoning her younger sister, Eliza, a pretty stenographer, the police took their first step in an effort to clear up the mystery of several deaths in the family.

Three other members of the Crawford family have died under mysterious circumstances within the last few months. Eliza died last Friday and under conditions so suspicious that the coroner had the contents of the stomach analyzed. The finding of enough morphine to kill at least two persons was followed by the arrest of the sister.

RECRUITING OFFICERS FROM STATE MILITIA

Adjutant General to Detail One From Each Company.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 27.—Adjutant General Forbes has received instructions from the war department at Washington to detail one man from each company from the national guard as recruiting officer. It will be the duty of these officers, in event of a call for volunteers to recruit the national guard companies up to full war strength.

These men will then be transferred to the state mobilization camp at Alameda, where they will be equipped physically, and all who qualify will then be given instruction and training and as much instruction as they will warrant in this way it is expected to be able to form a first class body of volunteers and the old system of recruiting will be done away with.

GOVERNMENT BUYS RISDON WORKS FOR MARE ISLAND

Machinery Plant to Be Transferred From San Francisco.

HAS NOTABLE HISTORY Union Iron Works Will Be Deprived of Profitable Naval Business.

VALLEJO, Sept. 27.—Word was received today at the Mare Island navy yard that the equipment and machinery of the Risdon Iron Works of San Francisco had been purchased by the government. It is intended to begin immediately the transferring of the machinery of the Risdon plant to Mare Island.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The Risdon Iron Works is a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation. The purchase of the plant from the Risdon company was consummated last spring and became public in April. The property was purchased to include the plant a half mile from the plant adjoining the Hunters' drydock of the Union Iron Works and a large piece of property surrounding the plant known as Irish Hill. The purchase price as announced was $2,250,000.

Following the purchase, representatives of the steel company announced that it was the intention of the company to enlarge and remodel the plant on the same lines as the plant at Gary, Ind. They declared that the plant would be supplied with Pennsylvania coke from a time, but that it was their ultimate intention to treat at the Risdon works the immense tonnage of iron ore controlled by the company around Hankow, China.

The Risdon plant was established early in the fifties by Lewis Coffey and John Risdon, two boilermakers from New York. The plant grew rapidly and for a time manufactured a large amount of marine machinery, employing 1500 men. Later, however, the business declined and for some time but few men have been employed.

The removal of the plant to Mare Island is taken to mean here that the army transport repair contracts and other government work which has been a source of profitable revenue to the plant will be transferred to the plant operated by the Navy Department at Mare Island.

The Union Iron Works, controlling the only privately owned drydock on San Francisco bay, has had almost completely on the work done for the transport service, the commissary department of California and other government work.

JOHNSON TO SPEAK AT VISALIA TONIGHT

Addresses Immense Audience at Los Angeles on Amendments.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—Governor Hiram W. Johnson tonight at Temple Auditorium spoke to an immense audience as a finale of his tour in the southern part of the state in advocacy of the twenty-three amendments to the constitution. While advocating the adoption of all of the amendments, the governor made special mention of the initiative, referendum, and recall because, as he declared, these were the indispensable and basic foundations of government by the people because they are the three that all political reformers fear most.

During the afternoon the governor was taken to the Soldiers Home at Visalia where he inspected the buildings and grounds and later made a brief stop at the veterans. He will leave tomorrow morning for Visalia on his way north.

$500,000 FIRE IN WICHITA; ONE MAN IS KILLED

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 25.—Fire which broke out in H. H. Block's new building on East Douglas avenue, was beyond control at an early hour this morning. Already the property loss has reached $500,000 and two firemen and three spectators are reported killed under a fallen wall. A third fireman caught under the wall died later in a hospital.

Comment of Papers of San Francisco on Rolph Election

Yesterday's San Francisco morning papers treat the Rolph victory as follows:

CALL
Rolph wins—triumphs in the primary by a majority that makes the best news San Francisco has had in many years, not excepting that joyous flash from Washington which told us the exposition was ours.

The expected has come to pass, and the thing hoped for is accomplished. It was assured that Rolph would be the victor. It was hoped that no would ride in on a landslide. And the landslide did. The old, bad order of things is wiped out, obliterated, buried deep under an avalanche of ballots. The new, good order is set up and backed up by the overwhelming majority of the electorate.

It is at this writing impossible to go into figures on any office or to say with exactness what has happened as to the rest of the ticket, but all the early indications go to show that the citizens have made a clean job of it—have not only given the city that called for help the man she wanted for mayor but have put in office or in the final kind of men all down the line.

Thus the first nonpartisan primary in San Francisco works out right. The people found out that was the matter, and then they turned out—and turned down, the administration that had selfishly and shamelessly betrayed them and defiled the city. The repudiation of the false theories and vicious practices of the McCarthy kind of government is so complete and so overwhelming the will of all classes in the community that we are not likely again to suffer anything of that sort in a long, long time.

It is a matter of self-congratulation that all this was done with absolute quiet and good order. Popular feeling is high and deep, but the feeling was powerful as a church fair. Rolph, thoughtfully, and with careful observation of the law, the citizens recorded their disapproval of a miserable failure in municipal affairs, and their demand for a new deal—a square deal. There are a number of older American cities that may envy this younger, hot-blooded community the way it does things.

Rolph, then, to mayor us for four years, and men of the Rolph type and Rolph principle to assist him in giving us the government we richly deserve and need after what we have had. Peace, money, and prosperity after turmoil and some hard, hungry years. After long waiting and delay that was easier to understand than to abide, now forms the procession of progress. All ready, San Francisco—forward march!

Even though the city must wait three months for the actual beginning of the new era, progress will not wait upon that event. We can and we unquestionably will discount an unassured future and get ready for it. Nor will the rest of the world that watched yesterday's election eagerly defer its judgment of approval. The course upon us is already fitted. No matter what the repudiated and discredited administration may do or try to do, in the remainder of its term, we know, and our sister cities will readily believe, that this is a communally self-redeemed and self-regenerated.

San Francisco has done herself proud and done herself well. Four years and more of the highest hope and fairest promise lie before her. The man who will be the exposition mayor is, above all things, the city's devoted and her interests. He is able, ardent, and a consistent optimist, rich in the spirit that has made the new San Francisco upon the ruins of the old. This victory is even more ours than his. To him the task, to the profit and prosperity, but supported by men of his own caliber and by a city united in desire and determination, Rolph shall find honor enough and glory to last him all his days. Hurrah for Jim Rolph! A loud, ringing hurrah for San Francisco!—San Francisco Call.

CHRONICLE

Just what Mr. Rolph's majority at the primary may prove to be we shall know when all the votes are counted. It is gloriously enough and San Francisco stands redeemed before mankind. Nor is there any doubt, although no figures are available at this writing, that this tremendous upheaval has carried into office with him a clear majority of the Supervisors who will work with him for the upbuilding of the city. And at the general election in November we shall fill up the Board with others of like character.

The Mayor and legislative body of the city will have the confidence and esteem of all that is good and all that is useful in the city, and will therefore command the confidence of the people of the world whom we are inviting to inaugurate association with us during the next four years.

Possibly the best thing about the election is that it signifies what we may trust to be the final defeat of the attempt of a lot of very ordinary politicians to create chaos, confusion, and alignment, that they might profit thereby. Mr. Rolph has been elected by an uprising of all classes of honest and law-abiding citizens and will be the Mayor of all classes alike.

And now that they have redeemed themselves and we have laid a solid foundation for prosperity, let us proceed to build worthily upon it. Upon the equitable basis of "live and let live" let us work heartily together to build up around the bay of San Francisco a city worthy of our history, our traditions, our situation, our opportunity, and the magnificent courage of its citizenship which as displayed in the presence of unparalleled disaster, excited the astonishment and admiration of the world.—San Francisco Chronicle.

EXAMINER

The decisive result of yesterday's election justifies the sober common sense of San Francisco. James Rolph, Jr., is elected mayor of the city by a majority so large that there is no room to question the will of the people. They have spoken in a way that leaves no doubt of their wishes.

The campaign that elected Mr. Rolph has been unique in many respects, but above all it was notable in the fact that it brought behind him a support in which party and class were eliminated. The victory won for him is the victory of the people, of organization, or class, or creed, or caste. It is the victory of the people of his city.

Mr. Rolph has had the good fortune to have the declared support of the Democratic organization, the Republican organization, of that organization of representative citizens comprised in the Municipal Conference, of those other representative citizens enrolled in the organization of the Good Government League, and in addition the forceful endorsement of such conspicuous representatives of the industrial phase of the union labor movement as Andrew Furuseth, Walter MacArthur and the men who march with these wise leaders.

With the election of Rolph to serve as mayor for the next four years there should be an end of the bitterness and animosities that have unfortunately overclouded the campaign. All patriotic citizens should cheerfully accept the result and work together for the upbuilding of San Francisco.

The selection of a mayor and of the other officers of the administration is, after all, chiefly a business matter. It is of no particular importance to the great bulk of San Francisco's citizenship whether one man or another holds a job as mayor or any other office. The question is of getting work done. The having of up buildings, better schools, and well-run, the city protected from fire, the safety of life and property assured, the vicious and criminal elements overawed and order and decency preserved; our streets well paved and kept clean, our buildings well enforced with light and air and sanitary conveniences may preserve the health of the people who dwell beneath the roofs of San Francisco; good transportation enforced that our workers may not get lost from their homes speedily and in comfort in short, the city housekeeping done in a way that will make San Francisco a pleasant place in which to live and do business.

At the voters have decided that Mr. Rolph is much the fitter to get these things done for the citizens than any other candidate.

The election of Mr. Rolph will give confidence to the men of San Francisco that the city is on the right way to work to prepare for the great future that lies within its grasp. But, even more, it will give in other cities and states the confidence in our capacity and character that has been lacking. It will help to our rehabilitation in the eyes of the world. The fact that we have not deserved the low reputation that has been fixed upon us does not make it any less important that we should shake it off when possible. And the election of Rolph, a clean and efficient citizen like Mr. Rolph to represent us will be taken by the world as notice that San Francisco is not the foul place that its critics have proclaimed. It is notice that San Francisco is a place to which men may bring their money and their families and be safe.

San Francisco now looks confidently forward to four years of peace, prosperity and material and moral progress. Under the majority of James Rolph, Jr., it will be made ready for the greatest exposition of all times and will be ready to take advantage of the magnificent opportunities for commerce and industry that will be opened when the Panama canal is revolutionized the trade currents of the world by joining the Atlantic and Pacific.

Let all San Franciscans loyally set aside their disappointments, if any they have, and loyally unite in furthering the progress and prosperity of their city.—San Francisco Examiner.

BULLETIN

With convincing emphasis the voters of San Francisco have, at their first opportunity, expressed their disapproval of the McCarthy administration, and by the largest majority ever given a candidate for mayor elected James Rolph, Jr. chief magistrate of the world's fair city.

Other citizens disapproved of the labor, but no fair-minded citizen will be deceived. The result of yesterday's balloting was a victory for honesty and decency in municipal government, and to organized labor belongs a large share of the credit. If labor had stood with Mayor McCarthy he would have been re-elected. It was his fellow-workmen who rolled up the immense majority for his opponent. Labor had trusted P. H. McCarthy and had been betrayed. Proceeding to give San Francisco a labor administration, Mayor McCarthy turned the government of his city over to cheap politicians and divekeepers, and by repudiating his betrayer labor proved the sincerity of its demand for good government. A McCarthy victory would have been a defeat for labor, and his defeat was a genuine victory for the cause with which he sought to cloak his treason.

McCarthy was a foe of organized labor. He stood in the way of the workmen's political progress. That this fact was clearly recognized by the sighted labor leaders is evidenced by the fact that among Rolph's zealous supporters were Andrew Furuseth, Walter MacArthur, Ed L. Nolan and Paul D. Hawthorn. That the rank and file of organized labor realized this truth was made plain by the activity of the Rolph Union Labor Club, an organization whose promoters counted on a thousand members, and when the rolls were opened were amazed to find that the expected one thousand had grown to nearly three, this in the face of the hostile attitude of McCarthy.

It is in the face of such evidence that Mayor McCarthy will find defeat a defeat for organized labor, but only those who are ignorant of the real conditions existing in the city will believe that the issue was not government and decency. Labor saw its self-styled representative leaning on a white slave, demoralizing the fire department for the benefit of politicians, and demoralizing the police department for the benefit of rogues. Labor saw Mayor McCarthy making a farce of civil service, saw political hold-up men extorting money from street-sweepers, saw their city overrun by hunkers and pickpockets and thugs, who swindled and robbed and struck down honest citizens. Labor was for law, not lawlessness. Its principles were not "business as usual."

The administration along liberal lines, and to be true to itself it had to pull down the impostor who was responsible for the city's wrongs. It did its duty fearlessly, and now that its false leader has been deprived of his great power for harm, organized labor, assured of a "better deal" will close up ranks and do its utmost to make San Francisco not only a greater, but a better city.—San Francisco Bulletin.

67 MEN HERE AFFECTED BY ORDERS TO STRIKE

Espee Officials Notify Men They Will Not Be Taken Back Later.

In case the leaders of the shop employees of the Harriman lines call a strike the workers will not be taken back after the trouble is settled. This ultimatum has been issued by the officials of the Southern Pacific and other Harriman lines.

Yesterday notices to this effect were posted at the Espee roundhouse here. Three placards are signed by Superintendent F. H. Worthington and Master Mechanic Schaeffer, who are acting under instructions from headquarters.

Pending the outcome of the conference at Chicago, shop and yard employees here have been notified by telegram to await definite word before striking. The men have been told to wait out when the order comes regardless of the outcome and no matter what work is being done at the time.

However, all local shop employees are proceeding with their duties just as if nothing had happened. There are sixty-seven men affected by the order from the international union of the railroad men from the railroad officials are being posted in all shops on the Harriman lines.

"CONSPIRACY" CASE DISMISSED

Prosecution of Those Who Attacked Judge Is Dropped.

TACOMA, Sept. 27.—The so-called conspiracy cases at Seattle, growing out of a meeting at which United States District Judge Hanford was hanged in 1910 on account of his refusal to order a 5-cent fare on the Seattle, Renton and Southern Interurban Railway, were dropped today by the federal grand jury. Deputy United States District Attorney E. E. Todd today authorized this statement:

The cases arising on account of the meeting at Drayman's hall, Seattle, on August 25th, last, will not be further considered by this grand jury. No indictments in these cases will be returned by it. This will not preclude some other grand jury from taking it up.

Tomorrow the grand jury will take up the Tacoma census frauds under the direction of C. A. Newton, special assistant to the attorney-general.

A straightforward talk to the man who is about to buy a Player Piano

The player piano is now the standard musical instrument of the home. Within a few years it is safe to say that it will, in a large measure, displace the ordinary piano.

Just as the square piano took the place of the old cottage organ, and later, the more convenient upright piano took the place of the square, now the player piano is superseding the ordinary upright.

No one can intelligently make selection of a player piano who is not familiar with the Autopiano.

The Autopiano overcomes the inconveniences and defects of all other players. It has every essential “up to the minute” improvement. Still, there is not a single untried principle or part in its make-up.

We have sold 2,500 Autopianos, and we have yet to hear of one that failed to give the owner satisfaction, and they are in use in every county in California and Nevada, and Oregon and Washington, giving the same splendid results that they give on thirty-six United States patents, in every climate of the world.

Notwithstanding that the price of the Autopiano places it within the reach of every home, it is quality that has earned for the Autopiano the universal endorsement of musical people.

It is quality in workmanship, quality in materials, and above all, quality in tone, that makes the Autopiano a high grade instrument in every sense of the word.

If you are interested in the Autopiano (and every one should be), we will be glad to mail you, upon request, a beautiful set of illustrations of various styles.

What distinguishes the Autopiano among musical instruments

- It is perfect in mechanical construction.
- It is equipped with the automatic shifter device (Patented). This is absolutely essential in any 88 note player.
- It has the soloist device for accentuating the melody.
- It has the tonophone, the most perfect device for retarding and accelerating the music (Patented).
- Flexible striking fingers secure the “human touch” that makes the Autopiano an artistic instrument.
- The five-point motor and the double primary pneumatics insure ease of operation.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

Generally fair weather has prevailed throughout California during the last 24 hours in consequence of rising barometric pressure along the entire Pacific slope. The plateau depression has remained practically stationary, causing showers in Utah, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico, while that portion of the barometric trough which covered the north Rocky Mountain states yesterday has moved rapidly to the Great Lakes. It has caused light but general showers in the upper Mississippi valley and region of the Great Lakes. Over the Great Plains and Southern States the weather has been fair except along the immediate Gulf coast. A 24-hour rainfall of 2.45 inches is reported from Tampa, Fla. San Francisco 24 hours warmer over the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley and cooler along the Middle Atlantic and New England coast.
Higher barometric pressure over California and the north Pacific states assures generally fair and somewhat warmer weather tonight and Thursday.

Prune Situation Strong;
Peaches Better Than

Eastern jobbers and other buyers are receiving advice from the Coast that the situation in the prune market is a bear effort, and the low tendency has no foundation in fact. And in the peach business, it is being said that the situation is really stronger than the appearance of the market would indicate, as most of the goods are now held strongly by two of the operators among the smaller firms on this Coast. Further, the word is going out in the East that the quoting of low figures on raisins is less an effort to get business than to scare the growers who still hold their goods. It is said the packers who are quoting down to 7 and 7 1/2 c. o. b. for fancy seed are doing so partly protected by the fact that in the present slack condition of business they are sure they will not sell heavily at such a figure, and will not thus stand to lose heavily when they have to cover, if they cannot break the sweet box market.

as the crop is showing up shy as it is being cured, just as the raisin crop is doing. The New York Journal of Commerce says of the condition of the market in New York at the end of last week:

"As the drying season for California prunes progresses it becomes more evident that this season's crop will produce comparatively few of the large sizes. However, in view of the slack demand for 24s and 30s there is a disposition in some quarters to quicken the movement in them, and some of the packers are soliciting bids. Of the larger sizes, however, the most wanted by the Eastern trade, but they are reluctant to meet holders' views. The packers, however, in many cases decline to consider orders for straight cuts of 40s and offer small percentages of that size in general assortments at a stiff premium. Even 40s are short and also command a premium in some instances on the general four size 1 c. o. b. Coast bag basis price. Offerings were made yesterday from some packing houses for September shipment on a 1-1/2 c. o. b. four size bag basis for 40s to 50s, with half a cent premium on 40s and 5 3/4 c. basis for the same assortments. October shipment, the premium on 40s being three-quarters of a cent. Other packers quoted October shipment on a 1-1/2 c. o. b. bag basis for 50s to 90s, 6 1/2 c. basis for 20s and 6 1/2 c. to 6 3/4 c. basis for 40s. Buyers manifest more interest and quite a number of bids were put up from here to the Coast yesterday, but almost invariably they were a little under the packers' quotations. More or less real business is being done, but the particulars do not come to the surface. One report of sale of a car of 40s to 70s was made yesterday from Chicago to New York on a 5 3/4 c. f. o. b. bag basis, with half a cent premium on 40s. The contract called for November shipment. No business was reported in Oregon Italian prunes, there being apparently no offerings from either first or second hands at the moment.

"Peaches, according to some authorities, are not so weak as recent reports from the Coast would indicate. The bulk of the season's crop is controlled by two small factors, and while there seems to be a disposition among the smaller holders to prevent these operators from getting the benefit of command of the larger share of the supplies there is no cohesion among them, or not enough to have any decided effect in efforts to break the market. However, trade is not slow and prices are more or less nominal. Nothing is being done in forward shipments of apples from the Coast to this market and according to report other distributing centers are equally indifferent. The Coast market has an easier tone, but there has been no material decline in f. o. b. quotations recently.

In raisins, according to Coast reports, the bullish tone prevailing is due more to an attempt on the part of the packers, who are again getting ready to come into the market for sweetbox goods to influence the views of growers on the prices of the latter than to a desire or expectation of drawing out important orders from Eastern distributors. In fact, it is questioned that the packers would be willing to confirm the business in any considerable quantity on the basis of the f. o. b. prices they are quoting for fancy and choice seed. Some sales of new crop are reported having been made at 7 1/2 to 8 c. o. b. for fancy in 1-pound cartons, though 7 1/2 to 8 c. is a more general quotation. Further business in freshly dried old crop has been done at 7 c. o. b. Coast for fancy and 6 3/4 c. for choice. Some packers are quoting new Thompson's blushed at 9 3/4 to 10 c. for fancy and 10 1/2 c. for extra fancy f. o. b. steamer shipment. Some bids have been sent out to the Coast from here at a little under these figures but there were no confirmations reported up to the close."

LOEB JURY LOCKED UP; TO SEAL VERDICT IF REACHED

Case From Coalinga Grows
Out of Wide-Open
Gambling Games.

Defendant Pleads He Drew
Check to Avoid Row
Over Dice Losses.

The jury that tried yesterday the case of Joseph Loeb, accused of drawing a check for $100 on the Bank of Coalinga on the 4th of last August when he had no funds in the institution, was locked up at 9 o'clock for the night, with instructions that if a verdict is agreed upon it be delivered to the Deputy Sheriff Baird to be opened in court this morning. Judge Church was indisposed and went home. The jury retired a second time for its deliberations, after having had read to it by request the court instructions touching upon the relations of Loeb with the bank, and in effect that if he believed he had credit with the bank and so believing, drew the check he was to be found not guilty. Judge Church cautioned the jury that this instruction must not be considered alone but in connection with the other instructions and also the testimony in the case. The jury took with it also the memorandum of Loeb's bank statement showing that the bank had given him credit for various small sums at times when his account was overdrawn.

The $100 check which is the subject of controversy in the case, came into the hands of O. Axtell, Coalinga saloon man, on Friday, August 4th, and according to the testimony, was given by Loeb to the bartender, R. K. Heber, to take up a previously cashed check of $40 and for $60 money borrowed, the total being losses at dice gambling in a rear room of the Axtell saloon. When the check was presented for payment on the following morning by Axtell, the bank turned it down because Loeb had no funds in the bank. According to the bank statement of his account presented at the trial yesterday, Loeb was in fact $9.91 overdrawn.

It was in evidence also that Axtell informed Loeb on Saturday following that the check had been turned down and Loeb expressed no surprise, but said he had expected it. The testimony for the prosecution also established the fact that Axtell knew nothing about the drawing of the two checks cashed by his bartender, and nothing about the dice game, because he was absent from the saloon, but that after the conversation with Loeb on Saturday he gave him a small amount of money on Monday morning to make bank deposit to cover the check. This Loeb did not do.

Loeb's defense was in effect that the $100 represented money lost at dice gambling, shelling with one Shanklin for 60 cents, $2.50 and $5 stakes at a throw, and that he was cheated because the dice were fixed, having the sharp corners edged off. These dice he afterward secured from Axtell as a souvenir. Loeb, who is an oil broker, pleaded that after he came to a full realization that he had been cheated systematically in the game, he stopped playing and made out the check payable to cash or bearer as the easiest and quietest way of preventing trouble or a row, in the event of not meeting his losses in a game such as this was. He also admitted that he still had $100 in his pocket when he ceased playing.

In his testimony Axtell admitted that the bid had been on for a time against gambling in Coalinga but that it was taken off and is off now. Attorney L. H. Smith commented on this testimony in his argument to the jury to criticize the district attorney for prosecuting the defendant in this case and taking no action against the complainant.

For the prosecution was introduced through Assistant Cashier Crozier the statement of Loeb's account, showing overdraws at various times, a red balance of $9.91 on August 4th and incidentally that since then, and the turning down of the note Loeb had deposited at different times more than sufficient in all to have paid the note. The man Shanklin was not produced in court. District Attorney Church presented a document showing a letter in Bakersfield under subpoena in court on a trial which had precedence over the Loeb case.

The jury on the trial yesterday comprises the following named: E. L. Dutton, J. W. Shippe, W. D. Weaver, A. P. Smith, G. L. Granger, Edward Clark, H. L. Green, J. N. Vogt, L. B. Pollard, J. W. Wise, Fred Holz and John Reid.

With the Loeb case, Judge Church cleared his calendar of twenty criminal cases, three of which only were tried and these three cases from Coalinga.

CLEVER BOGUS CHECK MAN RETURNED HERE

Whitechat Says Checks
Were Written in Order to Reach Wife.

Deputy Sheriff Bottrick returned to Fresno last night, having Richard Whitechat in custody. Whitechat is wanted here for passing several alleged forged checks. He was arrested in Berkeley. Immediately upon his arrival here Whitechat was taken before C. K. Sorenson, who is the complainant. Sorenson identified Whitechat as the man who had passed the bogus check on him. Whitechat is alleged to have made a partial confession to the officers in the fact that he declared he wrote bogus checks in order to secure money with which to reach his wife in Berkeley. He was arrested at her home.

The officials claim that this tale told by Whitechat is only related to gain sympathy, and that in reality he spent the money in Fresno on another woman. According to several Fresno saloon men who were questioned by Whitechat, he worked a very clever game in this city. It is said that he stayed around various saloons and told the proprietors that he was contemplating the purchase of a saloon, and in this way he won their confidence and when he presented a check it was readily cashed. He is said to have passed bogus checks on the Oberon and West saloons.

FRESHMAN CLASS

TULARE, Sept. 27.—The annual football rally and initiation of the freshmen class of the Tulare High school was held last night at the high school building. A large bonfire had been prepared beforehand by the freshmen boys as is the custom. The fire was lighted about 7:45 and the entire student body and many of the townspeople gathered on the front steps of the building. The fire-burner had loaded the bonfire with fire crackers and bombs which began to explode with great regularity. After the fire works Russel McCallister read the training rules of the football team and they were signed by over twenty aspirants to gridiron fame, each player being cheered as he signed.

The crowd then retired to the assembly hall and the meeting was called to order by the president, Claire Gulberson and real business began. J. M. Allen of the Alumni, Zubal Hicks and Ray Pursell were called on for speeches. Lawrence Ellis led the yell, after which the freshman roll was

SOCIETY

Mrs. Maude Elliott, Miss Lillian Dunn and Mrs. Arthur Perkins, the efficient soliciting committee, to whom the financial success of "Pencil Day" is due.

With the unveiling of the show windows last night of the shops that are actively taking part in the Fashion Show, the first act of this much anticipated event was "on," and the crowds on the streets attested the interest centered in this first venture of Fresno's merchants in anything of the sort. Apropos of things fashionable, the Dry Goods Economist tells of some attractive innovations in the fall styles.

In high-grade waists the veiling is taking the form, somewhat, of a jumper. In these designs the lace lining appears uncovered in the yoke and sleeves, while the chiffon follows the line of the yoke and the arm-size. In some of these models, by way of variety, the sections under the arms also show a glimpse of the lining. These novelty waists are usually finished with a narrow pleated full of chiffon below the waist. In Cityenne effect, the yoke of the blouse is pleated, the pleating and other forms of extension below the waistline is growing stronger in all garments, including waists, costumes and short silk coats, supplementing the three-piece suits. In speaking of the Cityenne frock it is well to mention the eon lace and net, which have recently appeared with an extension of 4-inch knife pleating on the material being so soft that it usually crushes beneath the outer garment.

Fragrances are always interested in hearing of the doings of those who claim as her own. Miss Merle Maddern, the talented young actress, who has been playing in Mrs. Fiske's company for several seasons, spent the summer in New York, where she took one of the roles of the "Bluebird." Metelich's drama which stirred dramatic and club circles as deeply. Mrs. Fiske's recent production, "Mrs. Bump-

GROW YOUNG WITH AGE, SAYS MUNYON

Noted Health Expert Gives Formula for Youth for Every One.

Calls Himself Living Example of His Own Optimistic Ideas.

"Grow young, instead of old. This is not a theory, but a fact. I have proved it in my own life, and I now say that any man or woman may do the same. This is the saying of Prof. James A. Munyon, health expert and philosopher, explaining his new theories on the subject of health. Professor Munyon's story is best told in his own words.

"The thousands of people who know me will attest the truth of what I say when I declare that I am growing younger as the years pass by. Instead of older I mean by this that I look younger, feel younger, and am enabled to do more work and enjoy work than ever before. Every day I am asked by my friends what remedies I take to renew my youth. So general has the inquiry become that I here offer the formula to the public.

"First, I have divested myself of all selfish ambitions. I have driven from my heart all ambition, and have replaced it with a love for my fellow men. I have given up all ambition, and in its place I have housed sympathy, charity, hope, forgiveness.

"I have ceased to put into my stomach food that irritates and taxes my energies, or drink that excites and burns up my vitality. I have accepted the pulse source of nearly all ailments is an irritated or clogged condition of the bowels. That the bowels are simple incubators of misery and bring down the power pipe for the human system, must be kept clean, clear and sanitary for one to have good health. It is inconsistent with science and the intelligence of the twentieth century for one to carry around for several days or even weeks, quantities of decomposed matter, which is giving off poisonous gases and irritating all the nerves and delicate tissues of the whole system.

"I have learned also that the way to secure illness is to fight it off at its first appearance. I do not believe in taking or in giving medicines unless absolutely necessary, but when it is necessary I take or give the right medicine. I do not believe in dosing symptoms, nor in the use of harsh, powerful drugs that do not remove the disease from which a person is suffering, but only cover it up temporarily, where it festers and grows worse.

"I claim that I have had more success in curing sick people than any medicine has ever had, more sick people than any other system of treatment ever discovered. And every cure that has been made has been the result of my method of curing, and not of any medicine, absolutely necessary, and when necessary only just enough to get the results desired.

Some time during the early fall, the club is to hold an evening meeting, to which the "bubbles" are to be asked. The affair was planned late last spring, but owing to the warm weather, it was decided to postpone it until the fall.

Miss Adeline Thornton and Mrs. B. R. Minor are at home after an extended sojourn at St. Helena.

Rev. and Mrs. Rhames, of Memphis, Tennessee, will arrive this evening, from Los Angeles, where they have been visiting, and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hughes, until the recovery of St. James church is prepared for them.

The West Park Thursday Club will hold its first study meeting of the season this afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. J. Bowen, 561 Nielsen Avenue. After quotations from Mark Twain are heard, the study of the physical geography of California will be presented by Mrs. J. J. Bowen. Once each year, a day is devoted to California, and so it was decided to choose this topic for this year's calendar. A general discussion will follow.

An amusingly indignant discourse on woman's suffrage comes from the headquarters in San Francisco. The anti-suffragists are making a great deal of over women being obliged to pay poll tax after October fourth when they will be voters in California. Section 2539 of the Political Code says: "Every MALE inhabitant of this state over 21 and under 60 years of age except paupers, insane persons and Indians not taxed must annually pay a poll tax of two dollars." The poll tax is levied upon adults as well as citizens, has absolutely nothing to do with voting and cannot be levied upon women until the wording of the law has been changed. This contention has about as much merit and truth as the rest of the anti-suffrage arguments. It is a bogie aimed to frighten children. It is the same in regard to jury duty. Women are not liable under the law, as changed in 1907, to the equal suffrage states women are specially exempted from jury duty—their services in the home being considered as more than an equivalent. At the worst the same excuse which keep most men from jury duty may be used by women.

too, though it is possible that some intelligent but poor women might be led to exchange a few dollars' worth of breaking work at the wash tub for a day in a comfortable jury box at the usual juror's pay."

The ladies of the Madison Club meet with Mrs. Barker on Church Ave., Friday afternoon, September 29th.

The young people of the North Side Christian church combined in giving a jolly affair on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert A. Parker on Franklin Avenue, commencing Miss Ethel Nelson and Miss Hulda Nygren of Los Angeles, who are visitors in town. Games of an informal nature were enjoyed throughout the evening. As the entertainment was a "farewell" to the visitors, who leave at the latter part of the week for their southern home, an original decision was conceived for the table a huge cake depicting the center and being elaborately trimmed with colored tings and the word "farewell."

About two dozen guests were present at the enjoyable affair.

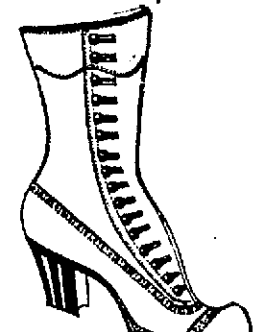

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tribble were delightfully surprised on Tuesday evening, when a group of friends decided to give them a home warming in their new home on Jensen avenue. A handsome rocking chair was left as a souvenir of the occasion.

Among those present were Messrs. Raymond and Mesdames E. Brayton, Elmer Gilbert, N. D. Gilbert, J. B. Dunham, Flannery, Hatch, Gore, Fred A. Berg, Bowen, Mrs. Moxey, Misses Hazel and Edith Moxey, Mrs. W. Sweet, Mrs. J. W. Tribble, Miss Sarah Tribble and Master Tribble.

Raymond W. Phillips, a civil engineer employed at Home, and Miss Marion H. Ballard of Sanger were married yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the North Christian church parsonage by Rev. Charles L. Reel. The couple was attended by Mrs. W. A. Walton of Sanger, who is a sister of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will make their home at Home.

Jointly engraved cards are out, inviting friends to be present at the marriage of Miss Hazel Griffith, and Walter Johnson of Turlock, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, at St. James Episcopal Church. A reception will follow the ceremony, at the home of

KILLED IN AUTO RIDE.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 27.—Frank Baker, a young man residing at 340 San Salvador Street, was killed last night by the overturning of an automobile, in which he and three men companions were riding. The accident occurred at Millington.

Dear Mildred:—

You know I wrote you yesterday about taking up the course in facial massage. Well I did, and it's great. What pleased me most they treat the forty hump, that appears about thirty, and develops to a hump about forty; located between the shoulder blades. Watch the grow young. You will be green with envy. Tomorrow and all the days of the Fashion Show, they keep open house. Mrs. Williams, who owns the place, has reserved one booth for the use of ladies wishing to bring up a little, without extra charge. Meet me promptly at 2 at the Unique Hair Dressing Parlor, 105 Elderly Block. Lovingly,

WAR FOUGHT BY BOYS

John J. McCook Returned to Classroom at 19 a Colonel.

The death of Col. John J. McCook brings to mind anew the fact that the civil war was fought by boys. He himself left the classroom at 16, to return to it three years later as a brevet colonel. At this distance of time the things seem incredible, and yet there were many like Col. McCook on both sides, though none in either camp were as young as he.

It is related of Maj. Gen. John Sedgewick that his staff called him "Old Uncle John," although he was only 50 when killed; but the title is explained by the record that the oldest of his staff officers was but 25, the others being between that figure and 18. Col. McCook's own father was killed at the age of 63, when acting as an officer in a home guard regiment called out by Morgan's daring raid into Ohio, and his age, evened up somewhat in years the losses of this famous family, which began at Bull Run and included the murder by guerrillas as he lay ill in an ambulance of the gifted Col. Robert L. McCook. It has been the habit of some latter-day writers from the Southern standpoint to assume that on the Southern side alone were men of birth and breeding; that the Northerners were chiefly uneducated, foreign origin officers, or adventurers. But the record of the McCook family may be cited in refutation as long as the story of the Civil War is written, as will the names on the walls of Memorial Hall at Harvard.

Certainly no family, North or South, was more ready to give everything it possessed to the cause than were the McCooks, of whom John J. McCook was the youngest and one of the most attractive.—New York Evening Post.

WELCOME TO WIFE, BUT NOT SUIT CASE

Joseph Kubisz, of Indiana Harbor, Ind., lost a wife and a $5 suit case on one and the same time Sunday morning.

Joseph Kubisz's wife eloped with his brother Stanley, 21 years old. The suit case went with the elopement. It was a very much for the loss of his helpmate, but he did mourn the loss of his $5 suit case. The more he thought of the "nerve" of the elopement in running away with his eloped wife, the more angry he grew. Then he, as the run by the police.

The eloping pair was arrested on a night train from a train at South Chicago. A little later Joseph Kubisz appeared at the police station.

"He stole my suit case," charged him with robbery," said Kubisz, pointing to his brother. Not a word against his wife.

That's why the eloping wife was freed and that's why the brother must stand trial on a charge of larceny.—Chicago Examiner.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO HANDLE BANQUET OF COMMERCE CHAMBER

To Take Up "Revival" Work in the Body Very Shortly.

Committees Named to Go to Meeting on Panama Canal Tolls.

Planning a banquet at which a movement for larger membership and more extended work by the Chamber of Commerce shall be launched, that body yesterday voted to appoint a "revival" committee, which shall have as its functions the handling of this banquet, and the securing of more members for the chamber. The committee is to consist of five members. Their selection was left to President W. M. Giffen and was taken under advisement by him.

Such a banquet was planned for last year and was placed in the hands of the membership committee, but has been left without action since that time. Now, it is believed that a get-together banquet will be a good way in which to prepare for the active work of the winter season. Further, it is proposed to submit at this banquet a new plan for financing the chamber, so that it will have more money with which to take up the many avenues for extensive advertising which are continually opening up.

It is now proposed to go ahead actively and it is believed the date of the banquet will be announced soon.

CALL PANAMA MEETING.

Notice was received yesterday by the directors of the chamber that a meeting will be held at 2 p.m., October 2nd, in the chamber of commerce rooms in San Francisco, for the purpose of discussing and acting on the matter of tolls to be charged shipping that passes through the Panama canal. The body was invited to have a representative present at this meeting. In response to the invitation, F. M. Hill, manager of the Traffic Association, and Chester H. Howell and N. J. Levinson, were named special delegates to this meeting.

H. A. Sessions, well known in his connection with the parental school work here, was appointed a delegate from the chamber to the rural educational conference, which will be held at the University farm at Davis, California, on October 14th. Sessions has interested himself in agricultural education as well as his parental school work, and was named by President Giffen on recommendation of Henry Hawman and John D. Morgan.

Secretary Robertson, at yesterday's meeting, read a letter received from President Taft's acting secretary, acknowledging receipt of a telegram on the matter of sulphurizing of fruits, and stating that the President will notify this body here if he wants a "personal presentation of their case." The telegram was brought out by a report that President Taft was going to decide on the use of sulphur in dried fruits, adversely to the California fruit men, before the Ramsey referee board, which is said to favor moderate use of sulphur, has time to report. The local protest was one among many that went from this state.

Thompson says he did not speed car.

Eugene Thompson appeared before Police Judge Briggs yesterday morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of exceeding the speed limit. He was released on $10 bail. James A. Murray, a real estate man of this city, who is alleged to have run a race with Thompson in their automobiles, did not appear in court. Murray has engaged an attorney but he was unable to appear in the police court yesterday morning. The attorney will appear in the police court this morning and enter a plea for the real estate man. Patrolman McCall arrested the defendants. He alleges that they raced out Blackstone avenue to Zapp's park at a fast rate of speed.

Probation work begins in October.

Judge Austin will not sit in operation his Probation Commission having charge of juvenile delinquents as an auxiliary to the court until after the first of the coming month. The reason for the delay is that the services of H. A. Sessions, who will be the county probation officer under fixed salary and devoting his energies exclusively to the office, will not be available until then. Mr. Sessions is temporarily engaged in organizing farmers' institute meetings for the University of California, an engagement which he had entered upon before the offer of probation officer.

Variations of the metal hat.

Are the blacksmiths trying to break into the millinery business? Will the hand that nails the horseshoe forge the hat?

These are living questions, because New York advises say the "metal hat" is going to be the thing this fall. Very modest young women will not wear anything else, and the shoes are to be different from anything ever seen before. The more different the shape is, of course, the more you pay for it.

What is to become of the hatpin when the metal hat arrives is a mooted question. Rivets have been suggested as substitutes, and a nickel-plated combination lock is regarded as a tasteful suggestion, or it is thought, the hats might be shrunk on like the tire on a wagon wheel.

The helmet shape is to be one of the popular things in metal hats. Its advantages are obvious, for when it is no longer serviceable, as a hat it can be turned upside down and used to hold the family hair and cabbage in. For trimming the metal hat a strip of corrugated iron roofing will give a neat ruffle effect, and the plumbers can doubtless devise some very fetching designs in lead pipe.

The milliners who originated the idea of the metal hat, however, say that the metallic effect is to be obtained by the use of gold and silver flowers, metal fringes, bronzed leaves, silver mesh, and that sort of thing. From the St. Louis Republic.

Mathews asks to set aside award.

He Says Now He Revoked Agreement for Arbitration of the Dispute.

C. W. Mathews filed request in court yesterday that the award reported by W. F. Chandler and H. C. Larson as arbitrators of disputed claims between him and Attorney James Gallagher over leased property northwest of Kernan be annulled. The request is based on affidavits filed by Attorney George C. Osborn and David Freeland, the third arbitrator. These show that the arbitration board while sitting, including testimony last Sunday at Mr. Chandler's office was served in behalf of Mathews with a written notice revoking the agreement to arbitrate. Freeland says that thereupon Mr. Chandler tore up the written memorandum that he had made and declared "we might as well go home." Freeland says that at the dispersal of the arbitrators no decision was arrived at, and while he participated in no other session yet an award was filed in court on the day after signed by the two arbitrators.

Joe Ellis, the 13 year old son of J. A. Ellis, who was injured yesterday morning while at play at school, regained consciousness last evening and it is not thought that the injuries will prove fatal. Young Ellis was playing on the Washington school grounds during recess. He and several of his schoolmates were playing football when Ellis was accidentally thrown against a low brick wall in front of the basement window. The lad was rendered unconscious. He was carried into the basement and Dr. Floyd Burkes was called and took the injured boy to his home at 272 Clark street.

Pacific Midway has fire dept.

MANICORA, Sept. 27.—Because of the many losses of derricks and stored oil, as well as bunk-houses, by fires throughout the field, the Pacific Midway Oil Company is equipping its property with a full fledged fire department. With this tank and a department that is planning on taking daily drills, the lease is under much needed protection, which promises security from anything but a big fire.

Petroleum exports valued at $418,840.

Shipments From San Francisco in August Total About 14,000,000 Gals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The total value of the exports of petroleum and its products from the port of San Francisco in the month of August amounted to $418,840. The shipments of crude oil amounted to 7,543,320 gallons, valued at $158,518. The Hawaiian Islands received by far the largest proportion of this export, the total amount shipped there being 5,955,600 gallons. The fact of sufficient native fuel in the islands and the large sugar plantations for fuel have created this trade. Canada used nearly 2,600,000 gallons of the crude product, the remaining small amount going to northern Mexico.

Hawaii was again in the lead in the amount of Naphtha imported, with 109,255 gallons of this engine fuel. Alaska stands second in the list as a consumer of naphtha and the total amount shipped from San Francisco in the month of August was 178,844 gallons, valued at $32,782.

Japan was the main customer for illuminants, with a total importation for the month of 4,950,000 gallons. Cuba purchased $60,842 gallons in the same period. The total value of this exported article is reported at $198,044.

Lubricants valued at $23,621 were exported to fourteen different countries. Canada was the largest consumer of this product but Hawaii, the Philippine Islands and Australia were good customers. Over $5,000 worth of residuum was shipped to Hawaii.

Small fire starts from cook stove.

Fire starting from a cook stove yesterday noon slightly damaged the residence at 2033 Inyo street. The loss is estimated at about $75 or $100. The house is owned by W. D. Vandenberg and is rented furnished to three families.

A fire was built in the cook stove on which to prepare the noon day meal. The fire from the stove set fire to the wall paper and in a short time the flames had reached the roof of the dwelling. A fire alarm was quickly turned in and the blaze was extinguished. More damage was done by water than by the fire.

Wire lassoes automobile.

One of the most peculiar automobile mishaps in the history of the city occurred when a machine driven by a Philadelphian picked up the loose end of a telephone wire at Montpelier and Pacific avenues, Chelsea, carried it along 200 yards, and came up with such a jolt that the automobile nearly completed a somersault, throwing the occupants into the street. They were found stunned by patrolman, who detached the wire, and, going back, found that the pole to which it was attached had been bent to an angle of fully 45 degrees.

Wire lassoes automobile.

One of the most peculiar automobile mishaps in the history of the city occurred when a machine driven by a Philadelphian picked up the loose end of a telephone wire at Montpelier and Pacific avenues, Chelsea, carried it along 200 yards, and came up with such a jolt that the automobile nearly completed a somersault, throwing the occupants into the street. They were found stunned by patrolman, who detached the wire, and, going back, found that the pole to which it was attached had been bent to an angle of fully 45 degrees.

M. AND T. OIL COMPANY AFTER LAKEVIEW SAND

Down 2300 Feet in Second Well; Stopping of Gusher Gives New Life.

MARICOPA, Sept. 27.—The M. and T. Oil Company near Maricopa is down 2300 feet with its second well and has hopes of striking the Lakeview sand. At 1500 feet the casing was pulled temporarily on account of having reached some oil sand but it did not prove attractive enough and drilling was resumed. Well No. 1 which was brought in at 2200 feet is making 100 barrels a day. The oil brings 25 cents at the Standard storage, owing to its being very high gravity. It is stated that wells in the vicinity of the Lakeview gusher which is silent, are taking on new life and flowing stronger than ever. The Maricopa Oil Company has four good wells within easy distance of the old gusher and they are making a nice production. The company is not drilling any new wells at present but will put down a well in the near future.

UNION BUYS ROYALTY OIL FROM LAKEVIEW

Price Said to Be in Excess of 30 Cents; Call Off Standard Deal.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 27.—According to information given out here, J. M. Dunn, Parker Barratt, Julius Fried, the original Lakeview owners, sold their royalty to the Union Oil Company and outside parties for a sum in excess of 30 cents. It is reported the price was less than 25 cents but over 20. The report that the Standard had bought the royalty of 25 cents, which was published some weeks ago, was based on the fact that negotiations then in progress indicated that the Rockwell company would buy it. Later the negotiations were called off and the Dunn-Barratt-Fried interests closed with the Union for the bulk of the oil. The Lakeview stock, completed the well which turned into the big gusher. The Dunn crowd got 1,000,000 barrels for their share, netting in excess of $300,000 for their labors.

SUITS PILE UP FAST ON AMERICAN CRUDE

Property Tied Up Because of Attachments for More Than $20,000.

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 27.—Suits and attachments are piling thick and fast on the American Crude Oil Company, a Kern river corporation. For water sold, the Minnehaha Oil Company attached the American Crude's property for $1576; for serving rendered, F. L. Gardner, $3099; for lumber, King Lumber Company, $1621. Some days ago the same property was attached for an indebtedness aggregating $15,000. The suits were filed by City Attorney Laird in his private capacity. The Union Lumber Company has used the South Kern Oil Company, a Los Angeles corporation, for $1094, for materials delivered. Denying that the withdrawal of the casing from the well started by it will ruin the hole, the Ventura California Oil Company filed answer to the suit of the Devel's Den Consolidated Oil Company, involving Devel's Den land. It is stated that the defendant admitted having forfeited claim to the premises but admits giving notice of intention to forth same. The M. G. and P. Oil Company, on section 14, 31-23, has its well down 1500 feet. The Carbo Petroleum is down on section 26, 32-24 with their eighth well. Oil is expected to be found in paying quantity at 1600 feet.

STRIKE IN SOUTH FIELD OF COALINGA IS OF GREAT MOMENT

Few Believed Oil Bearing Sand Existed Beyond Wartham Creek.

Canadian-Coalinga Making Preparations to Care for Its Oil.

COALINGA, Sept. 27.—The strike of the Canadian-Coalinga, on section 5, 21-15, has opened up the possibility of a section of the south field that has been considered of little value, by a number of oil men, and also, has been mentioned with doubt by geologists, some of them men of good standing in their calling. There were a number of men, however, who had faith in that section of the field, and they believed the oil sands were not cut off by the Southern Pacific or the trend of Wartham creek. Among the number was A. J. Pollak, a geologist of San Francisco, who interested Vancouver capital to invest in section 5, 21-15. He backed his faith in the property by investing his own capital in the stock of the company. John Thompson, field manager of the company, has given his best efforts in the care and management of the property from the first; has directed the development work and is now preparing to care for the production. This strike has been one of great value to this field. It has proven oil exists south of the alleged "dead line," Wartham creek. That the oil is of light gravity, adds another value to the south field. The depth of the discovery is inviting, and assures a good life to the fields. It has opened up the west end of the south field and added many acres to the Coalinga field.

BEGUN IN OCTOBER, 1910. The well of the Canadian-Coalinga was commenced in October, 1910. The company has employed the best help on the well and has secured no expense in the development of its property. It was drilled into the oil sand on September 15, 1911, about 6 a. m. The well was started with a rotary and carried 1600 feet. The formation there not being suitable for a rotary, the standard tools were strung up. There are 242 feet of 15 1/2-inch screw pipe casing in the hole, 112 feet of 12 1/2-inch casing and 280 feet of 10-inch Diamond Pipe Special 40-pound casing with which the water was shut off. No water sand has been encountered from 2650 feet to the shell above the oil sand. The oil sand was entered at 2685 feet with 8 1/2-inch casing.

The well being in new territory it was thought best to cement the 8 1/2-inch casing in the shell just above the oil sand and to reinforce the 10-inch, on account of the water gas pressure that would be exerted on the outside of the 10-inch pipe. This would forever protect the well against any of the upper water. The oil from the top of the sand appears to be 23 degrees Baumé, a dark amber in color. The sand is heavily saturated with oil and the present indications suggest a good producing well. The formation from which oil is producing is termed by geologists as from the middle Miocene, a period of tertiary age. An effort is being made to bridge the well below the point desired to cement the 8 1/2-inch, 24 pound pipe at a depth of 2820 feet. The 8 1/2-inch will be carried into the oil sand to complete the well.

TO CARE FOR OIL. Preparations are now being made to care for the oil. A pump hole has been secured out of the oil to settle and foundations are being made for two 5000 barrel corrugated galvanized iron tanks to care for the oil until shipment. These tanks are being built by the California Oilfields, Limited, at their shop on section 27, 41-15. To further guard the well an 8-inch gate valve has been placed on the casing. Through this gate the tools are run. In the event of the well breaking down the oil will be turned into the pump hole instead of being thrown up into the derrick.

This initial showing of the well is considered superior to any well brought in in the Coalinga field. This expression has been voiced by a number of prominent oil men who have visited the property and who have examined the sand, their reason for this statement being that the hole has been continuously full of water to a depth of 2600 feet. The gas on three occasions shot a spray of oil fifty feet above the crown block. Overall Gieser, the head driller at the well, a man of intelligent experience on wells of this character, says this is the richest he has seen in the Coalinga field.

Mr. Pollak has always been confident that the oil measures extend south of section 5, 21-15. A careful study impressed Mr. Pollak that the unique position of the property of his company on the formation, the company at this point and the bend in the trending anticline, all looked favorable for a well. That the sweep of the anticline in a crescent way brings the Roseheiser, The Best Yet, the Consolidated and the Co. within the zone of this strike, is the belief of many oil men here who have watched the development work into the south field.

BRIEF OIL NOTES OF MIDWAY FIELD

TAFT, Sept. 27.—The Esperanza Oil Company has secured five acres near Taft to be used as a base of supplies for its operations. The 3200 acre The Esperanza is drilling in the Midway, East Hills and Elk Hills. The Alberta Midway Oil Company is re-perforating its well in the Midway field near Fellows. The well showed up first rate when first perforated but when put on the beam did not do as well as was expected. The second well is down 700 feet and the ten inch casing has been put in. The Pacific Midway Oil Company has taken precaution to protect itself against fire by putting in a fifty gallon chemical.

VANCOUVER OIL CO. DOWN 3370 FEET

COALINGA, Sept. 27.—The Vancouver Oil Company, Limited, section 14, 20-15, has well No. 1 down 3370 feet and has landed the 10-inch pipe. The company has 163 joints of 40-pound 10-inch casing in the hole. Over sixty-seven tons are hanging on the casing clamps. The contract calls for 4000 feet with not less than 8 1/2-inch casing. With present conditions the contractors, Walp and Cypher, are confident they can carry the 8 1/2-inch to that depth. Manager John Thompson is of the opinion that the well will have to go 4500 feet for the pay sand. The consulting engineer and geologist, A. J. Pollak, has made several cross sections of this property which indicates the pay sand to be about 4500 feet deep, at this point.

Opening Hints for the Fashion Show

COATS and WRAPS

The new models that are at the time of writing being worked out by the designers show a great attention to the fine points of the garments. They already in the line are characterized by a personal execution that marks a great advance in the wardrobe production of separate coats.

THE DEMAND FOR WARMER COATS

The general use of the fur, and the extension of trapezoidal lines into the country, have had the effect of producing a demand for warmer coats than were ever used. Thus, the new coats are of the soft, warm, and lightweight variety. Most of the success of the new season's styles will depend upon the selection of the warmth without weight. The endeavor to substitute others for these new coats will soon be found to be an error of judgment. Women want these soft warm coats, or textured materials would not have made them, and garments manufactured for the construction of the new coats. It is now up to the garment buyer to carry them along and deliver them to the wearers.

REVERSIBLE FABRICS

The double-faced cloths are certainly admirably suited to the new models brought over from Paris. Double-faced cloths for warmer coats have been used with excellent effect in past seasons for separate coats, but never quite in the same way as they are now being used. The general style may be for the coat of a better world, to be double-faced, the "turn-back" style. The neck portion of the coat is turned back in big revers, lapels, or cuffs, so that the reverse side makes a harmonious trimming for the coat. It is the same story with the sleeves which frequently smocking, seem to have been cut some five or six inches too long, and then turned back in the form of a wide cuff.

REVERSE SIDE OF CONTRASTING COLOR

The reverse side of these double-faced cloths are of a plain contrasting color or shade, or they are of plaid and striped designs. So it can readily be comprehended how much variety can be obtained in a single model by the selection of different colors.

The reverse side is always brilliant. Even the plain colors are bright. For example, a beige and white striped model is lined with royal purple, black blue and with scarlet or orange, black with emerald green and so on through all the possible combinations of color. Even the outmost portions of this brilliancy, for many of those used are of the bright color framed in the dark blue.

Another characteristic of the new coats is the tendency to make the fronts of the skirt portion double. That is the left side extends well over to the right hip, and the right side extends well over to the left hip, and the right side laps over it to the corresponding position on the left side, where it is securely fastened by from one to three or more large buttons. To insure satisfaction to the wearer, it will be well for the buyer to see that the under lap of this double-skirted coat is held in place by means of a button on the upper corner which fastens through a long cord loop attached to the right under-arm seam. Otherwise the coat is bound to go askew when the wearer is in motion.

Exactly the opposite to the double-skirted coat is a Paquin model with the skirts cut away in a deep V in front, so that the costume worn beneath is plainly visible. Other models show the skirt buttoned well to the left side, and with only a moderate lap.

NOVELTIES IN NECK ARRANGEMENT

There are many novel forms of neck arrangement. One model shows a head effect that can be turned down to form a deep cape. Another has an attached scarf of double-faced satin, the ends finished with big tassels, one end of which can be thrown over the shoulder, the other left to dangle to the waistline in front. Still another has the Algon collar finished with two gold bullet buttons in which can be attached a wide stream, so that the effect is of a high-standing collar.

A few of the high-class models in utility coats show a slight drapery in the skirts, similar to that of the high-class carriage and evening wraps of the spring season. These generally have a slightly rounded movement at the lower edge of the coat in front. This same rounded movement is noticed in some of the models without drapery.

It is a new idea in practical coats, and one which should prove a success, since it has been proven a graceful and becoming style by the most fashionable dressers.

SEMI-FITTING COATS

Coats are of the semi-fitting style. Straight lines dominate, but there is noticeable a tendency to curve about the body portion in some models. In all probability the long straight lines will prove most popular at retail. Women have only tasted of this style throughout the country, and it is certain to be a favorite with them since it gives not only the fashionable silhouette, but in case is added to both slender and stout figure. Some models show the slightly high-waisted effect, often obtained by fitting the back skirt portion to a separate body portion.

ROUGH-SURFACED MATERIALS

In every collection of foreign models the predominance of rough-surfaced cloths is noted, in those intended for general use. These come in the form of velvet, plush, fur, and satin, and are used for evening wraps, and for evening dresses. The broad-brimmed hats are exceedingly handsome, and in quite large designs that partake of the nature of furniture coverings. As will be seen by our Paris letter these are the materials that have been worn during the early summer for formal evening occasions, while the reversible satin wraps have done duty for afternoon and general evening wear. The satin and velvet evening wraps are often elaborately ornamented with rich lace, often in the heavy culture style, while the velvet day coats are handsomely trimmed with braids.

STYLES in SUITS

Short jackets and narrow skirts are to be the characteristics of the fall styles. There is an interesting study being made upon these notes in the models already in the line. The tendency towards fancy jackets is limited only by equally attractive styles shown in plain tailored models.

The complaint is often heard in the market, no more this season than in former ones, however, that with all the thought expended upon the production of styles that differ somewhat from the plain tailored style, in the end the greater business is always done upon it. Naturally, this is so. There are more women who find a plain tailored jacket suited to their requirements for a tailored suit than there are women who find its fancy jacket adapted to their purposes. It is not so much a matter of price with women as it is with men, for the majority of suits ordered out by custom tailors are of the plain variety.

THE TAILOR MADE IN FRANCE

We hear and read a lot about the French women being only the fancy tailormade. But an analysis of tailored suits worn even at the great races in Paris showed that plain tailored styles were in the majority. The contrary belief has gained credence, however, the great number of models do not show them. Why should they? American tailors do not have to go to Paris for plain tailored styles. They may, to be sure, take some one idea from a fancy tailored suit and adapt it to a simple style. And it is these styles that are neither over-laid nor a costly surprise that the great development of the ready-made suit has for the American trade.

The extremely plain suit is really appropriate only for young girls. Women, after they have lost the first flush of youth, look better in slightly trimmed styles, or those that have something taken from the severity of cut.

FANCY TAILORMADES WORN BY THE BEST DRESSED

Fancy tailored suits are worn by the best dressed women when they are on social occasions, and American women wear them more often in the early morning hours than do foreigners, because social functions often take place in the country at eleven o'clock in the morning, while abroad they never begin until two or three hours later.

Short jackets are to rule this season. The leading manufacturers are making none longer than thirty inches, and this is really the exception rather than the rule. From twenty-five to twenty-eight inches are the lengths that carry out better the style idea. There is a curiosity in the cut of the new jackets that the task of enumerating them is an impossible one. Suffice it to say that a great number show the body of the coat extending about to the waistline, where fitted basques are set on. This is the type of jacket that has already been seen on some of the New York women who are acknowledged fashion leaders. In other words, it was one of the extreme styles of the late spring season, and therefore one that will probably gain greater acceptance in ready-made lines for fall.

SKIRT LINES. Skirts still adhere to the long straight lines. The fashionable width will be two yards. Panel backs continue to be favored, but it is noted that for the winter models they are quite as often attached to the skirt for the full length as allowed to hang loose half way down.

That women like the narrow skirt is borne out by the fact that it is the one most seen upon the streets of New York, and that a great many women have adopted the narrow skirt in its most extreme expression. How they manage to get up stairs in them is an unsolved problem. These skirts are not pretty, and they give the wearers anything but a graceful appearance, for most of them are not more than one yard and a half in width, and some not even that.

WIDER SKIRTS IN PARIS

Therefore, when we hear that Paris has adopted a wider skirt, we may well believe the truth of the assertion. But it is not what most Americans would call a wider skirt. Here, the skirt is the two-yard width, and the fashionable one. Skirt models that are wider have almost invisible plaits set in around the lower portion. But the skirt may be snug about the hips, they must be sufficient width half way between the knee and waist to give sufficient room to walk upstairs. Tunic effects have shown in some of the more elaborate skirts. It is the tunic skirt that will be the dominating style in tailored dresses and costumes. So that the same type of skirt should prove good to a considerable extent for tailored suits.

Deauville Grand Prix

Brilliant Toilettes at Fashionable Watering-Place Race Meet.

(Staff Correspondent.)

TRIOVILLE, Aug. 25, 1911.—The season at this very fashionable place reached its climax on Sunday of this week, when the Grand Prix was run, bringing to the nearby Deauville race course one of the smartest gatherings ever seen at this fashionable event. The day was simply perfect for the exhibition of the summer toilettes. No wraps were needed, nor was the sun hot enough to necessitate the use of parasols. This gave every new toilette an opportunity for full and complete appreciation by the many people who were gathered there to observe the toilettes, rather than to witness the races.

In consequence, the exhibition was one of the most interesting and complete that has been known, and the day-time toilettes were rivaled in brilliancy only by those worn in the evening at the Casino.

LACE GOWNS A GREAT FEATURE

For both day and evening wear the costume of lace took precedence. This big novelty of the summer season is unquestionably the lace gown. This is, of course, a very high-class and expensive fashion, as many of the costumes were in part, if not wholly, of real lace. But, beginning in this high-class way, the fashion for lace will certainly include the use of many machine-made laces, counterparts of these hand-made varieties, now in fashion.

So fashionable is lace that it was almost the exception to find a really elegant toilette at Trouville without some lace, and, as before stated, many of them were entirely of lace.

HEAVY AS WELL AS LIGHT LACES. An interesting and important feature about the use of lace is that both heavy and light varieties are almost equally fashionable. This extends the lace vogue to include many kinds and, consequently, will broaden the lace movement.

In addition to variety in kinds of lace that are in fashionable use, there is variety in colorings. White, black, and champagne laces are equally fashionable. The last-named is perhaps the newest, and will doubtless exert a wide influence on the product of 1912. The tip had already gone forth on champagne laces, and the exhibition of these colorings at Trouville certainly verified earlier prophecies.

RICH BROCADES. For evening wear the only rivals to lace are the brocades, in satin, silk, and velvet, and the printed silks and velvets. A most marvelous showing was made in fabrics of this kind. It might be well also to state that the trimmings for these regal brocades and printed stuffs were often of real lace.

No question can be raised regarding the future use of brocades of all kinds in Paris. Well established last winter, brocades will now occupy a more prominent place in the fabrics of the coming winter season. Without question, their influence will be felt later on, resulting in the introduction of simpler and less expensive brocades for day gowns next spring.

PRINTED SILKS AND VELVETS

Another result of the brocade vogue that may be expected is the retention of printed effects in silk and velvet in Paris. This is already manifested in the new black-printed and hand-tinted silks and velvets which are appearing for fall, and for which no less an authority than Paul Poiret stands sponsor. Very many beautiful dresses of these materials, models from this maker, are seen here.

Poiret, Callot and Paquin have all proved their prominence in fashion-making through the number of interesting and beautiful costumes, products of their shops, that have been worn at Trouville this week. The best test of the popularity of a maker is the proportion of his models that are to be seen in such fashionable gatherings.

MANY KINDS OF LACE WORN

Flax, Arabian, Venice, guillo, needle point, Chantilly, Irish, Milan, crocheted point and the Platen and St. Gall imitations of all of these, dyed in cream, cream and black, were all much used. Often several varieties were combined, which is proof that the vogue is for lace and is broad enough to include many kinds.

TWO KINDS OF LACE COMBINED

Combinations of black and white lace and of black and champagne were very much seen. Often one lace was used for an overlay for the other. This was particularly true of combinations of white Venice and black Chantilly.

Wide flouncings of lace are seen mounted on foundation skirts of satin or again the lace is applied in scarf-like fashion, wrapping the figure. Again, the lace in insertion pattern is set into a chiffon or fine tulle, and from this the dress is made, having additional trimmings of lace edging.

LACE AND CHIFFON

Entire foundation robes of white lace are veiled with dark-colored chiffons and marquisettes, notably navy blue and black. Again, a handsome costume of white lace will be seen with a scarf drapery of colored chiffon.

The colors most noted in such combinations were royal purple, king's blue, chateau yellow and emerald green.

THE UNCORSETED FIGURE

All fashionable figures appear to be uncorseted.

This feature of dress is being more emphasized than ever. Whenever it is possible the figure is left uncorseted, otherwise a very low-bust corset is worn.

BEAUTIFUL, LUSTROUS, HEAVY HAIR AND NO DANDRUFF OR ITCHY SCALP

Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine and Just Try This; Stops Falling Hair at Once.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life, eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Ten minutes after applying all the dandruff will disappear, all itching will cease and there will be no more falling hair. Millions of men and women use Knowlton's Danderine, and they never have dandruff, itchy scalp or falling hair—they know that it keeps the scalp clean and healthy and makes the hair grow heavy, long and beautiful.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an imperishable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Begin Preparing for a Good Position Oct. 2nd

Plan to enter on October 2nd and join the reorganized classes at Heald's Fresno College. Do not go away from Fresno to attend school when you can get the same instruction here where you are near your own folks. All Heald's schools are alike in courses of study, and all are the very best. You can enter here and transfer to any school of the Heald's chain if you wish to attend one of the coast colleges in the summer.

In transferring from the Fresno College to any other college no time nor credits are lost. The work is the same in all schools and can be taken up at the same point without loss of time. Another reason why it is desirable to enter at Fresno is that we receive many inquiries from nearby towns asking for persons from that neighborhood. This allows us to place students in good positions near their own homes.

We want to impress the fact that all Heald's schools are the same, that the Fresno Heald's is exactly the same as all others, and that the Fresno Heald's is the one for young people of this section to attend.

The best time to enter is on October second, so that you can start with the new classes. This will make the work more pleasant for you, as you will be associated with many others in your studies who are just beginning the work.

COST OF PAINTINGS 'IS SCALED DOWN'

Artist Loses Suit for $22,150
for Pictures of Lucky Baldwin.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—Art received a cruel set back in this city yesterday, a set back to bring down to round about artistic figures the sum of $22,150. That amount was jopped by the relentless processes of the law off the value placed by H. H. Cross, a San Francisco artist, on a half dozen oil paintings made by him of the late Lucky Baldwin. Cross brought suit against the executor of the Baldwin estate for $22,150 but by the time the court had officiated at art critic, the value of the paintings slumped to $1,210 which was the amount awarded.

The principal picture, for which Cross asked $5000, showed Baldwin astride a charging buffalo. The court decided that $240 was its commercial value. A strong battle scene with Baldwin warring with Redskins who had captured his daughter, the court decided was worth $60.

OSCILLATING BEACONS FOR COAST LIGHTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Approving the recommendation of Commander W. A. Moffett, head of the local branch of the light house inspection service, orders arrived yesterday from Washington directing that all stationary white and red beacons along the California coast to be converted into oscillating lights. Each light will have a different arrangement of flashes to make it easily recognizable by coastwise mariners. Commander Moffett made his recommendation on the theory that there was danger that locomotive or automobile headlights at points where roads approached the shore might readily be mistaken for stationary marine signals and result in disaster.

DEFEATS EXTRADITION
TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 27.—Louis Havel-Rochelle, one of the two men whose extradition from Indianapolis was fought out in the courts here aided by Mayor Whitlock, as an instance of "kidnaping" similar to the McNamara case, went free today after being held for nearly three months. He was charged with swindling a fruit dealer.

COLLEGE SCIENTISTS ARE CATCHING FLEAS

Various Exterminators Are to Be Tried Out on Elusive Insects.

BERKELEY, Sept. 27.—War has been declared against the frolisome and elusive flea by the learned men of the University of California. If science can accomplish it, these agile disturbers of human repose shortly will be eliminated from this state, at least.

Already Prof. C. W. Woodworth, head of the department of entomology has begun his task and proposes to hold under observation a "poison squad" of fleas to be done with various kinds of insect exterminators to determine which will do the job with the most disastrous results to the flea. Like the recipe for rabbit pie, however, it becomes necessary to first catch your flea, and Prof. Woodworth's assistants have been designated as "master of the hunt" for the occasion.

The work is being carried forward under California's insecticide law which recently became effective.

RENTAL TAX FOUND 'UNCONSTITUTIONAL'

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The Los Angeles city ordinance fixing a rental tax of $1 per room for buildings of more than thirty rooms and $4 for each store in such buildings was declared invalid yesterday by the Supreme Court in the case of J. B. Lankershim against the southern city. The finding of the lower court was reversed and a new trial ordered. Discrimination was the ground on which the ruling was based.

RIDING ON PLATFORMS NOT BARRED, SAYS COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—The right of a railroad to bar passengers from riding on car platforms was denied yesterday by the supreme court in ordering a new trial of the case of George M. Pruitt against the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad decided in favor of the defendant corporation in the trial court. Pruitt and his son Walter were standing on a car platform in 1907, preparing to alight, when the train was suddenly derailed and the son received injuries from which he died. Pruitt sought to recover damages and the company urged in defense that riding on platforms was prohibited by statute. The trial court took this view in instructing the jury.

The supreme court, however, held that the implied invitation to enter smokers and dining cars while trains were in motion well established the right of passengers to move across the platforms of moving cars, regulations and statute to the contrary notwithstanding.

Chief Justice Beatty filed the only dissenting opinion.

FATHER'S DRUNKENNESS
EXCUSES HIS NEGLIGENCE
OAKLAND, Sept. 27.—Thomas Dooley who was arrested when charged by the coroner's jury with permitting his 8-year-old son to die of burns after twenty-two hours of agony without medical attention was dismissed by Police Judge Samuel this morning. The court held that as Dooley was under the influence of liquor at the time his son was burned, he was ignorant of the nature of the injuries and could not therefore be held for trial under the state law which compels parents to furnish proper medical attention to minors.

ADMITS FALSE ARREST OF HER SWEETHEART

Girl Had Youth Arrested to Impel Him to Marry Her.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 27.—Natively informing the court that she told the story which resulted in the imprisonment of her sweetheart for two months simply to hurry up a proposal of marriage which she knew was coming sometime, Helen Roberts, a Monrovia girl, obtained the release of Charles H. Thompson, of Washington, D. C., today. Thompson who is 23 years old, has been in the county jail since last July, but he declared after his release that in spite of the peculiar treatment accorded him by the girl, he still loved her, and that he probably would comply with her wishes "to marry her quick."

Miss Roberts is 14 years of age. When she caused the arrest of Roberts she said she was only 12.

AUTOIST KILLED IN COLLISION WITH CAR

STOCKTON, Sept. 27.—Engene Grunsky, senior member of the real estate firm of Grunsky, Dietrich & Liestner was almost instantly killed this morning north of this city when his automobile collided with a car of the Central California Traction company. He was thrown out and the car broken ribs, a fractured skull and internal injuries.

The injured man was rushed to the Emergency hospital but died on the way. The deceased leaves a widow and three children besides a number of brothers and sisters.

UNIVERSITY PROHIBITS CIGARETTE SMOKING

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Sept. 27.—The cigarette smoking student of the University of Notre Dame has come under the official ban of the faculty. The sole penalty provided is suspension, according to notices posted today on the University bulletin board and signed by President Cavanaugh. There was little protest against the new rule cigarette users having prepared for it by buying pipes. The non-smokers and athletic coaches greeted the order with joy.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT MALARIAL POISONING

Malaria is a disease which gradually destroys the strong, nourishing elements of the blood. When the malarial poison begins to absorb the rich, red corpuscles of the circulation, we see pale, sallow complexions and a general impairment of health. As the blood becomes weaker the appetite fails, digestion is disturbed, chills and slight fever are frequent, and in aggravated cases boils and eruptions break out on the flesh. Malaria is blood poverty, and the only way to cure the trouble is to enrich and purify the circulation. Nothing is equal to S.S.S. as a blood purifier, and it is especially adapted to the cure of malarial troubles because it contains no harmful minerals, and while ridding the system of the malarial germs, S.S.S. builds up the entire constitution by its fine tonic effects. If you are suffering with Malaria begin the use of S.S.S. and rid yourself of this weakening disease. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write and request it. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores.

JUST 45 minutes from Fresno is one of the things that makes Kerman a nice place to live. Just 45 minutes by auto, over perfect roads, lands you in the richest piece of agricultural land in the state of California, the land that is the cheapest to buy because the price is low and the terms the easiest ever offered on farming land, in other words, the land of Kerman.

The people who are settling in Kerman are the far-sighted shrewd farmers who have been quick to realize and seize the advantages and opportunities open to them. There is already a large population on this tract. This is the second section of it that we are selling and it is bound to go rapidly because it will have the example of the farms already sold to prove what can be done. Those who expect to get some of this highly desirable land will have to come quickly.

The land of Kerman is a land of modern improvements, a land where there are school houses, telephones, rural delivery, churches, railroads, club houses, electric lights, pure drinking water, and all the conveniences of civilization. It is in no sense a section where it is necessary to do any pioneering. It is not even necessary to find out what crops are most profitable. All of this has been done. Your neighbors are the kind of people who will give you assistance and advice, and do it gladly when asked. And all of this is only 45 minutes from Fresno.

There is not another place on earth that has so many advantages of all kinds where land is being sold at such a low figure and on such unbelievably easy terms. The price per acre is only $175, and payments are allowed at the rate of 2 per cent per month, the first payment to secure the land being 10 per cent of the purchase price. This amounts to only $3.50 an acre a month—about a day's wages to pay a month's installment.

COMPENSATION ACT HELD TO BE VALID

Washington Supreme Court
Sustains Newly Enacted Measure.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 27.—The state supreme court today sustained the constitutionality of the workmen's compensation act passed by the legislature last winter.

The court said that "a business which seeks a profit at the risk of the life and limb of human beings is subject to regulation, and law is, or ought to be, a progressive science, and the constitution must be construed in the light of our changed conditions."

The decision was written by Judge Fullerton, and is the result of the suit brought by a writ of mandamus brought by a team driver to force the state auditor to pay a claim for damages. The driver claimed that the law was unconstitutional and refused to draw the warrant. On this, as issue of all the constitutional questions was raised and in every instance the supreme court held the law valid. The decision was signed by the full court.

Judge Chadwick, concurring in the result but saying that the proceedings do not raise the question of the constitutionality of the act. He says the decision does not lay down the law in the case because there are no proper parties of interest appearing.

The decision holds that the act does not violate the constitutional rights of a party not to be deprived of his property without due process of law; that it is not class legislation; that it does not do violence to the provision that taxation shall be uniform, and as it takes away the right of action in courts, it necessarily follows that the trial by jury is impossible and that therefore the point is not at issue.

GREAT HONOR FOR OLLIE JAMES
Representative Ollie M. James of Kentucky, has a tremendously large head, with practically no hair on it, and is a famous sight.

One of James' most intimate friends is Representative Thomas Hefflin of Alabama, another six-footer of huge frame, who boasts of one of the heaviest crops of hair of any member of congress. Both are great practical jokers.

A few days ago Hefflin approached James and told him that he had just learned that a postoffice in Arkansas had been named after the Kentucky congressman.

"Is that so?" replied James. "Well, well; I am certainly getting famous. Not long ago a friend of mine named a race horse after me, calling it 'Congressman James'."

By the way, Hefflin, what did they call this town in Arkansas?"

"Bald Knob," replied Mr. Hefflin.—New York Evening Post.

BURNED HUSBAND'S JOY TOGS
To prevent her husband from being popular with other women, Mrs. Magdalen Kelly burned up all his good clothes while he was at work, and now he has only his working clothes until pay day. Mrs. Kelly got the better of her husband when he told her that he had just learned that a postoffice in Arkansas had been named after the Kentucky congressman.

"Is that so?" replied James. "Well, well; I am certainly getting famous. Not long ago a friend of mine named a race horse after me, calling it 'Congressman James'."

By the way, Hefflin, what did they call this town in Arkansas?"

"Bald Knob," replied Mr. Hefflin.—New York Evening Post.

THE WRONG JOHNSON

Colored Congregation Goes on Rampage When Lecturer Talks of Dr. Samuel.

There was a near-riot at the Asbury African Methodist Episcopal church in Fifty-third street, Saturday evening, when Dr. Samuel, lecturer, Elroy Todd Tolliver, Ph. D., of Bath county, Virginia, was attacked with such fury by his audience that it took ten policemen to rescue him.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Cadeh Tabour, formerly of Jacksonville, Fla., announced at the Sunday services a week ago that a full course of lectures would be given, beginning Saturday night, the course to run three months, thirteen lectures in all, for only $1.00.

Great interest was shown by the big congregation when the Rev. Dr. Tabour said that the first lecturer was to be Dr. Elroy Todd Tolliver of Virginia, and that his subject would be "A Day in the Life of Johnson."

Every one of the colored folk present wished to hear about Johnson, evidently, and at the close of the services 300 tickets were sold, and during the week nearly 1000 more were disposed of.

The church was packed when Dr. Tabour appeared on the rostrum with Dr. Tolliver, an extremely black man, with a smiling, pleasant and intelligent face. He spread his notes on the reading desk. A little cheer, led by Butch Hogan, the negro politician, and E. Wesley Day, the president of the African Sportmen's club, was given.

The applause was gratifying to the lecturer, and he bowed. Speaking in a hoarse voice, he said:

"Leaving his humble lodgings, the stout man with the big head and the scar on his face, followed by the ever-attentive Russell, made his way to Fleet street, and, raising in front of his publisher's the famous lexiconographer raised—"

"The what?" (Gabriel Musty, a graduate of Hampden University and second cousin of Langford, the fighter, hissed the words out.)

"Yes, Mr. Lecturer. You, man, what that you call Johnson?" cried Butch Hogan.

"Lexicographer," mildly said the lecturer.

Messrs. Hogan, Joel, Tawney, Jasper, Spurgeon, and Mr. Musty and a thousand others looked puzzled and began to murmur. Finally Mr. Tawney spoke up, and said:

"Skip that part of it and get down to his actions on the day you are talking about. Did he look any one?"

"No, my friend; this great man could not fight," said the lecturer.

"Pardon me if I smile, but Dr. Samuel Johnson would never have indulged in physical combat with any one."

"Can I ask a question?" said Mr. Hogan.

"Yes, friend."

"Who are you talking about?"

"Dr. Samuel Johnson."

"What does he do?"

"He has been dead more than 100 years," said Dr. Tolliver. "But he wrote beautiful books, 'Lives of the Poets,' and he wrote a dictionary."

"Say, let me ask you, mister: Do you know about Jack Johnson?"

"No, he is of no interest to a learned man; he is a troglodyte, a—"

Then freuzy.

MAKING TRIAL OF BEEF VS. BEANS

Vegetarian and Meat Eater
Making Transcontinental
Endurance Test.

Vegetarians and meat eaters, which is to say, pretty much everybody, must be interested in those two school-boys, Jesse and Warren Burham.

Dr. Dudley A. Sargent, physical director of Harvard University, wants to test the relative value of meat and vegetables in sustaining a man under physical strain. So he set Jesse Burham, 25 years old, and his brother, Warren, 23 years, to walking across the continent from Boston to San Francisco.

Jesse must eat meat; Warren must live on vegetables. Both must sleep outdoors, whatever the weather may be, and must refrain from the use of alcoholic drinks. Last Sunday night they slept in a field near Colby, Ind., after the manner of tramps who eat anything they can get. Yet, when the Burhams arrived in Chicago, they said they were having a fine time on the walk.

The hotel clerk was momentarily nonplused at the request for accommodations on the roof of the hotel, nineteen stories up, made by the brothers, who are under contract to sleep out of doors, but he recovered sufficiently to say:

"Well, I've put 'em everywhere, except on the roof, so why not the roof?" and, accordingly, summoned a page, who took them up to the roof and told them to take their choice of the floor.

The two brothers were walking described by Dr. Sargent as the North American Indian stride. Their calf muscles are only slightly developed, so easy is their method of sliding over the ground.

MARQUARD FAILS TO STOP CUBS IN OPENER

Ritchie Performs Well and Giants Fall; Score Is Eight to Nothing.

With the American League pennant race definitely concluded in Philadelphia's favor, Chicago and New York have renewed in earnest the fight to determine which of the National League rivals will meet Philadelphia in the world series. It was an auspicious start for the Westerners for they not only defeated the leaders in the first of the four crucial games, but did so with a big shut out score.

This reduced the lead of the New York club by six points to 51, considerably enlivening the race, for there is still a chance that Chicago may capture the flag. The New York lead is now 8 1-2 games and it has 15 more games to play, while Chicago has but ten.

BADGERS' CAPTAIN

Alfred Buser, captain of the University of Wisconsin football team for 1911.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 27.—At the University of Wisconsin optimism over the prospects of a strong 1911 aggregation, reigns. Much of this is due to the confidence of local fans in the ability of the Badgers' steam fitter captain, Alfred Buser. In order to get in shape for the season, Buser has been working at manual labor as steam fitter's apprentice throughout the last summer months. Instead of dallying his time away with the fair summer girl at the resort, he is a fighter all the way; is game, and what is more important than anything else, uses his hand in playing the game. Wisconsin hopes to have a line up that will average better than 130 pounds and a fast and weighty back field.

BASEBALL BUNTS

The next big exhibition game on the local baseball map is that between Team's Terrible Twins and the Empire Cyclones. The battle is to be staged at Recreation Park but no date has been set. Ray (Dutch) Duncan will pitch for Team's toppers, with Cashion leading the bat. For the Cyclones Cliff Thompson will serve up the benders and flutters, while Franklyn Thorne will try to catch them near the plate. The contest promises to be a scream and a large crowd is predicted.

Here is a record for semi-professional baseball: Last Friday at Leavenworth, Oscar Jones struck out twenty-eight men in fourteen innings and won his game, 1 to 0. Jones was pitching for the Santa Rosa Indians against the Lorton regular team. Gully, formerly of the City League, was in the box for Lorton and struck out seventeen. For thirteen innings no runs were made. In the last of the fourteenth, the Indians put over the winning tally.

The Moose team of Fresno went to Lorton last Sunday and walloped the home boys, 15 to 11. Gully started the game and put his arm was sore from the fourteen-inning battle with Oscar Jones two days before and he withdrew in favor of Troutner. The Moose team went right after Troutner and put the game on ice. Pyne began a wild round of ball for the winners. Rose caught for Lorton and George Duncan worked behind the bat for the Moose. Bramm poked four hits in five trips and Rube Baldwin walked once and was "beamed" with the ball four times.

The West Fresno ball club has been reorganized for the season and would like to get games with any valley amateur teams. H. Brown, R. P. D. No. 7, is the new manager. Last Sunday the little giants of Eastern beat the West Fresnoites, 4 to 1, in a first game. Pitcher Brooks of the Little Giants distinguished himself with two home runs after striking out eighteen of his opponents.

In the first of a five-game series, Hanford defeated Lepore, 8 to 0, last Sunday. Al Klein of Fresno played shortstop for the Cubs. Oscar Jones started to pitch for Lepore but his arm was sore from the fourteen-inning game last Friday when he struck out twenty-eight men.

J. R. Stahl, manager of the West Park team, is at Los Angeles on a vacation trip which will extend to New York and Boston before he returns home.

While in the East, Stahl will take in the world's championship games between the Giants and Athletics. Philadelphia is Stahl's home town, and he is pulling for the Mackeys.

Two weeks ago, the Armies' tossers, in a letter to the sporting editor of the Republican, Stahl declared that Vernon will win the pennant in the Coast League if Hap Hogan has any luck at all. As for the "Coke" tossers, Stahl says the "ex-champs" have had too much luck to lose out the Giants.

The rival baseball teams from the Armies and Roeding packing houses will clash on the ball diamond at Recreation Park Sunday morning in a regular game. Two weeks ago, the Armies, with Ben Hill pitching, beat the Roedings, 8 to 7, in an exciting battle.

In the second game, the Roedings hope to avenge the defeat. Casper Elmer will twirl for the Roedings, with Perfecto catching. West will receive Hill's offerings. "Beams" Corlew of Boston will play first base for the Armies and Ben Stump will career in the outfield for Roedings toppers. No admission is to be charged and the game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

Daring Birdman and His Backer

J.J. Cole, Pres. Cole Motor Car Co. Robt. Fowler who will attempt flight across continent.

FLYER FOWLER IS FIGHTING THE AIR TO REGAIN LOST TIME

Undismayed By Fall of 1400 Feet, and Long Delay, Determined Birdman and His Cole Flyer Still Strong Contestants for $50,000 Prize.

The above picture shows the strong, determined face of Aviator Fowler, on the right and J. J. Cole on the left, who entered and is financing Fowler's attempt to cross the continent. Fowler took to the air at San Francisco September 11, in an attempt to fly to New York in thirty days. On the second day of his trip—when he had 104 miles from San Francisco, strong side winds crippled his steering apparatus and Fowler half flew and half fell 1400 feet to the ground. His aeroplane was wrecked, but his engine was unharmed. In four days the aeroplane was rebuilt and Fowler undismayed by his first mishap, resumed his flight. J. J. Cole, president of the Cole Motor Car Company, says Fowler discovered a new danger to cross-country flying, namely, cross winds. Mr. Cole, who is much interested in aviation, is already at work on improvements and devices to offset this danger. Fowler is hopeful—even confident—of winning the $50,000 prize. He relies upon his path-finding corps of automobiles to further aid him in making better speed than other contestants. He says he will lose no time through settling hat on the way, as Charles K. Henderson has arranged with his army of Cole distributors along the route to guide Fowler in his flight. The Cole distributor, through whom territory Fowler may be flying, posts automobiles all along the route to mark with flags and other signals the best-line route for that day's flight. Fowler since his start has almost always been within hailing distance of an automobile.

Money Powers Will Not Permit Nations to Indulge Further In Antiquated Game of War

By GEORGE WAUGH ARNOLD.

OVER the situation at Morocco, where it seems at a first glance as if France and Germany, both straining at the leash for forty years, might come together in a third clash the money interests have become alarmed. And that probably means more than all the deliberations up to date at The Hague. War is a waste of money. Financial magnates abhor waste. War lords are merely underlings to said magnates. And if the magnates double lock their money chests there will be no war. This may seem harsh to the patriot who likes to whistle the "Wacht am Rhein" or the "Marseillaise" or "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" (generally out of tune), but it is very much in the nature of a cold, hard fact. Thanks to the public schools and the penny newspapers war is becoming as unpopular and as unnecessary as street car rowdiness, and the big stick of finance will keep war in check as does the club of the policeman the overoffensive ruffian. Some Wars Are Working. But of war there is still some, and of rumors of war there are many. Turkey has two uprisings, one of Arabs and the other of Albanians. The Arabs count for little in these days of machine guns, but Montenegro has interfered to help the Albanians, and back of Montenegro stands Russia. There is still trouble in Mexico and Haiti, while Venezuela is bubbling over the chance of another revolution. But these peanut affairs affect not at all the world's equilibrium. Whatever of interest is shown among the civilized is in the German-French possibility, with a dash of English intervention thrown in.

The United States can hardly become involved because of the nice new peace treaties recently signed at Washington with France and England, but as a militant American statesman once said, "What in the torrid regions is a consultation between friends?" On paper it looks as if, should France and Germany fight each other again, with no assistance on either side, Germany would win by sheer force of bulk. It seems like the old sporting proposition of a good little man against a good big man. Concerning the armies, Germany has 620,000 men in uniform and 3,330,000 on reserve, a total of 4,000,000. France has 600,000 in service and 1,500,000 on reserve, a total of 2,100,000, or practically half of Germany's showing. Concerning the navies, Germany has 23 modern battleships and 307 other fighting vessels with crews of 35,500 men. France has 13 big up to date fighters and 293 other vessels with crews of 30,000 men. France is ahead in numbers in the lesser vessels, because she has 150 torpedo boats to Germany's 70. German Minister Storm Center. The stormy petrel in the situation seems to be Germany's foreign minister, Alfred von Kiderlen-Waechter, who is said to be another iron fisted Bismarck. He is as bold in his speech as he is in speech and is what we Americans love to call self-made—that is, he was not born to the purple. His father was absolutely nothing but a very prosperous and highly responsible bank director. He got into the diplomatic service in about 1880 and was sent to St. Petersburg for three years. In 1883 the Kaiser had to pay a visit to the czar and naturally had Waechter accompany him. On the trip the Kaiser found him master of the Russian language, well versed in the underground state affairs of the country and a good story teller. They have been friends ever since.

Monument to Living Powder King Will Be Highway Across Delaware

GENERAL DU PONT AND VIEW ON HIGHWAY.

IT is still considered by many persons an invitation to a speedy death to plan one's own monument. However, there be persons of enlightened class who are brave enough to scoff at silly superstition. Of these comes No. 1 in the person of General T. Coleman du Pont, powder manufacturer and millionaire. He is going to build his monument right now, and it will be a horizontal

"I might build a hospital," says General du Pont, "but that would benefit only the sick. I might build a library, but that would benefit only the educated. I might build monuments, but that would appeal only to the artist. I might build any one of a dozen institutions or artistic creations, but none of them would benefit the people of Delaware so widely as this road. "I think it combines all the benefits this state could derive. It opens the waste country. It makes way for education. It opens the way to the markets and in this way benefits the people in the small towns and in the cities. In fact, I think every person in the state will derive benefit from having the state opened to traffic. "In traveling over and over again the territory to be opened up by the road General du Pont has a "fleet" of six automobiles, one of which is a camp car, a thing of his own invention. When the resting place is reached the servants bring out tent poles and guy ropes, fasten big canvas flaps with hook and eye to the roof of the car and in ten minutes have a comfortable home for the night established. They light it with the lamps on the machine and fix up a perfect dinner on a folding stove that is heated by electric storage batteries. Folding cots are put in place, rubber mattresses inflated, and the tired tourists may go to sleep after dinner as luxuriously as if they were in a palace. Among the engineers now at work on what will be called the Du Pont turnpike are Sydney Henry, F. A. Russell, M. H. Shock, J. H. Dallett, H. E. Freed, T. M. Gunn and E. T. McMahon. In addition to these General du Pont will bring over two consulting engineers from Europe, one a leading French road builder and the other a leader in English road construction, of both Scotch and English fame. Each of these men will spend a month in Delaware with Mr. du Pont and his engineers later this fall. It costs real money to build roads in Delaware, and especially lower Delaware. It is all sand. The material must be imported. The right of way must be cleared and swamps filled from one end to the other. The whole proposition is the same as beginning to build a road through the sands of Arizona. Under the lava of Delaware and the special act of the Delaware general assembly General du Pont will be forced to organize a corporation for the construction of the road, and it will most likely be named after the corporation, which will be directed and financed entirely by Mr. du Pont. Throughout the promotion of the proposition the general has expressed the desire to name the road the Delaware road, but his friends call it the Du Pont road, and it is likely that this name will stick to it as long as it exists, and it will be a road for centuries. G. A. ACKERMAN.

Widow of Apostle Dowie Plans For New Zion City

MRS. DOWIE AND HER UNKISSSED SON.

NOW it appears as if we are to have more Dowie excitement. Mrs. Jane Dowie, widow of the diminutive and vituperative James Alexander Dowie, the original leader of the sect, has issued a call to the still faithful ones in Zion City, Ill., to pack up and come to her new 200 acre dominion at Whitehall, Mich. As she wants to be sure that all the acres will be taken up and made to increase and multiply she will begin on Oct. 1 a series of corporation meetings in Chicago to gain hardworking recruits for the Mrs. Dowie army. Assisting her will be her son, Gladstone, whose parading as the "unkissed one" helped as much as anything toward the pitiful downfall of the "second Elijah." Mrs. Dowie has a strong personality and even dared to differ publicly from her husband when he was at the height of his autocracy. For that she was disowned, but out of the city of Zion she managed to get to Chicago, where she is today in a position to start a movement toward a new and improved home for the faithful. She is making a special effort to attract the lace workers brought from Nottingham, England, by her late husband, who are piling up riches at their settlement in Elyria, O. They have adhered to the original Dowie teachings and are absolutely unadorned to drinking and smoking. They are happy, healthy and prosperous, and their machines are said by experts to be turning out lace superior to that coming from abroad. An idea of the character of Mrs. Dowie may be gained from a statement made by her in Zion City in 1906, when the Voliva fight against her husband made it possible. "This is a sorrowful night to me, but I have been burdened with these things for two years, and it is a great joy to see this climax. It may be news to most of you that my official head was taken off six months ago, though not for long. The overseers came to my house very solemnly and excommunicated me. I told my husband that he must repent and tell the people here how he wronged them." But Mrs. Dowie still holds to her husband's first plan of a clean co-operative commonwealth. "There is room for it here," she says, "and I think its example should prove of worldwide good. I will start one. It may be a failure, but I will start one." GARRETT STEVENS.

What Every Woman Should be Glad to Know

It Isn't Their Job Therefore Housework Looks Beautiful to Some People

"It was Tom Sawyer and his white-washed fence," said the woman who writes for a living, "who first immortalized the joy of the other fellow's job. This explains, I suppose, the fact that the woman's magazines today are bubbling over with fanciful articles entitled, for example, 'Good Taste in Dish Washing' and 'How to Beautify the Garbage Pail.' The over-worked housewife, wearied by the monotony of three meals a day and all concomitant evils, is refreshed beyond all measure when she can snatch a few minutes from toil to peruse in the pages of her favorite home monthly inspirational articles which seem the very ebullitions of lofty souls able to rise above the sordidness of daily living and to dignify the scrubbing brush, the meat chopper and the washbub. She is apt to feel discouraged with a sense of her own unworthiness as one abiding on a lower plane unless she recalls the fact that these enthusiastic articles are written by women whose whole task is to write about housework, not to perform it themselves in large doses."

"Hardly without exception women writers, doctors, lawyers, teachers and all others who earn their living with their brains rather than with their hands cannot say enough in praise of domestic duties. They speak, too, in all sincerity, for there is nothing more regenerating to the tired brain worker than the relaxation that comes from a complete change of employment, personified in their case by a dip into manual labor. They all have noted also that it is far easier to force one's hands than one's brains. Small wonder, it is that the woman whose ordinary path of duty lies along scholastic lines welcomes the emergency call which points the way to the frying pan or the bread board. The suffragette is as proud of her shelf of jellies as Marie Antoinette of her model dairy, and for the same reason—it isn't her job."

The Art of Teamaking.

A GOOD cup of tea is something too frequently met with when one considers the prevalent use of tea as a beverage. The fault often lies less in the tea than in the manner of its making. Here are some of the rules which, if observed, will prove the quality of the product:

Don't use water that has been boiled a long time in brewing tea.

Don't use water which has not yet reached the boiling point.

Don't allow the tea to brew for more than five minutes.

Don't make tea in a cold teapot. Rinse with hot water before placing the leaves in the pot.

Don't pour a second water over the leaves when the first brew is exhausted.

Don't allow tea to grow damp in the caddy.

Don't buy too cheap a quality of tea and expect good results.

Here is the Japanese method of making a deliciously refreshing beverage: Heat the earthen or china teapot thoroughly with boiling water, then empty out the water and put in the tea, pour in freshly boiled water, let it stand for five minutes and serve.

The teapot never touches the stove. A tiny tea caddy of Japanese paper is put over the teapot at the moment the water is poured on, and a delicious cup of tea is thus secured without having extracted the injurious ingredients—the tannin.

Always use a porcelain or earthenware teapot. Tea experts tell us that the fragrant leaf should never touch metal.

What Is New, Smart and Exclusive In the Season's fashionable furs

LATEST STYLES IN MARABOU SETS FOR THE AUTUMN

Nothing is softer and more becoming to the face than marabou, and for an in-between season set to don before it is really cold enough for the marabou muff and neck pieces are just the thing. The illustration shows the latest developments in these feathery accessories combined with handsome brocades, satins and velvets.

THE most interesting news concerning the mode in pelts is the introduction of tailor-made suits in fur with an accompanying hand bag to match. The skins used are moleskin and broadtail, the latter further beautified with trimmings of ermine. In cut the fur tailored suit resembles its sister of cloth construction. Skirts are narrow and—jackets—short and—semifitting. The fur bags carried with these costumes are huge affairs finished at the bottom with a deep fringe of silk. The novelty fur of the season is silver seal, and as this skin seldom comes out in the same tone the pelt will be used almost exclusively by milliners in their creations. Another pelt that is rather new is the fur of the gray wolf, which makes up into delectable scarf and muff sets. By the way, these scarfs are extremely wide and long, reaching in many instances to the hem of the skirt.

Muffs will continue to be large, with a soft padding, giving some thickness, and one finds the most costly furs made up into flat, roundish muffs with a deep, heavy fringe of the same color across the bottom. The large, fat boiler muff so much carried last winter is not among the new showings. It has been replaced by a triangular creation, which is even bigger and more imposing than the boiler effect. The deep point of this triangular muff hanging low when carried is rather effective, but it remains to be seen whether it will be taken up by conservative women.

In decided contrast to the wide scarfs and stoles are the tiny cravates of seal and moleskin worked out in mosaic patterns. These pieces are about six inches deep and fit snugly around the throat. Coats in imitation and the cheaper furs are made up in long, loose kimono shapes, making them easy to slip on over dressy frocks, but seal, moleskin and sable are not often cut in fancy shapes which are apt to go out of style quickly. These models take the form of short jackets, with broad and button trimmings, or box coats for motorizing and driving, and are cut on the regulation winter lines, with fitted sleeves.

HANDSOME WRAP OF BROADTAIL

THIS sumptuous limousine wrap designed for wear over afternoon reception and bridge gowns shows the North hank in every line and in the well chosen combination of material. The wrap is of broadtail heavily embroidered with chenille. The lining is of Persian satin in light rose, blue and mauve shades, and this lining is matched in coloring by the brocade velvet cape collar which turns back over the shoulders of the garment. A bit of the velvet appears also in the sleeves.

THE BIAS FASTENING.

It is one of the new fashions to fasten a skirt on the bias from the right hip over to the left knee. Houses are also fastened in this diagonal fashion. The idea was brought about by the innovation of one sided trimming on many of the new gowns.

Jabots Worn on Heart Side

THE fancy which has sprung up this year for the jabot has become almost universal. The new effects are far removed from the slim and contrived jabots which were worn ten years ago. The most fashionable ones at present measure not less than twelve inches in width and, starting quite high on the shoulder, finish in a point at the waist like a large revers. The side frill illustrated is of this type.

FRILL OF LAWN AND LACE

The new jabot is worn on the heart side, but there is nothing sentimental in keeping it so delicately crisp and clean. Any woman who is reasonably expert with her needle should be able to copy this very smart looking stock and side frill of fine white net and fillet lace. The stock, generously boned, is of finely tucked net bordered with narrow edging, and the closely gathered triangular shaped frill is bordered on the short and one long side with wide fillet edging.

A VACUUM WASHER.

A device if it does what is claimed for it should be welcomed with joy by every wise and careful housewife. Recently been exhibited in Australia. It is a vacuum clothes washer in a form so compact that, placed in an ordinary wash boiler, it forces boiling water through the clothes at a rate of four gallons or more a minute. The cleansing powers of this operation will readily be appreciated, and it is carried on absolutely without wear and tear upon the garments subjected to it.

Cookery Notes

SAVORY SCRAMBLED EGGS.

SAVORY scrambled eggs, which belong to the same category as the Spanish omelette, is a favorite breakfast or luncheon dish in many families. A dozen fresh green peppers are roasted a few minutes, then peeled and all the bitter seeds and membranes removed. Chop them up, cook in a very little water till tender and butter well. Six or eight eggs are then beaten as usual, salted and added to the peppers, and the whole is fried for a few minutes in hot butter.

GRAPEFRUIT JELLY.

This makes a delicious sweet for Sunday night supper. Soak two and one-half level tablespoonsful of granulated gelatin in one-half cupful of cold water for fifteen minutes, add one cupful of boiling water, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Keep hot over boiling water till the gelatin is thoroughly dissolved, then strain. Add three tablespoonsful of pineapple juice and one and three-fourths of a cupful of grapefruit juice. Turn into a mold which has been wet with cold water and set the jelly aside to harden. Pieces of the grapefruit pulp may be added if desired.

VILLAGE CUSTARD.

M. M. Fargo, chef of a famous New York hotel, is responsible for this recipe, which, he says, is a meal in itself. The custard is prepared by saturating five ounces of dry biscuits with kirsch and placing them in a deep dish with alternate layers of seasonable fruit, such as pears, apples or peaches. Mix together a half pound of powdered sugar, eight eggs and the yellow of four eggs diluted with three-quarters of a pint of milk. Pour over the biscuits and fruit and poach in the oven, being careful not to let boil.

SAVING THE INVALID'S NERVES.

Silk petticoats, starch wearables and crackling shoes should be avoided by the attendant in an invalid's room. Whispering is intensely irritating to a sick person, who naturally concludes that his symptoms are so bad that they have to be discussed in an undertone. Conversation between the nurse and visitor should be in a low tone of voice, but quite distinct. If there is anything to be said that the invalid must not hear it had better be said in the hall, entirely out of his sight, earshot and imagination. A small table in the hall, outside the sickroom, will be appreciated by the nurse and by whoever has to deliver and call for the invalid's food tray.

PERSIAN brocade in a pattern combining blue and gray tones has been used as the foundation material for this muff and collar set, the fur trimming being the soft, rich Australian pelt, which resembles chinchilla very closely. The collar has long stole ends weighted with tassels of gray chenille.

Try This Beauty Sleep

About once a month try this beauty sleep. Sleep twice around the clock and see how rested and refreshed you will feel. At first the restless mind, the very one that needs the treatment most, will say, "Oh, I should go mad lying in bed all that time," but if tried systematically it is not a hardship. Self suggestion plays an important part. When retiring at night impress upon your mind the idea that you need not awaken the next morning. When you do awaken naturally have a light breakfast, keep the blinds down and let the sun come in gradually, with the idea of sleeping a few hours more. Have no reading or writing at hand and keep the eyes closed even if you do not sleep. When you awaken take a little hot milk and again snuggle down in bed, and so on for twenty-four hours. It is the most magnificent way of taking a holiday and will do you more good, make you look younger and fresher than a whole week's outing. Before commencing the beauty sleep take a warm bath.

A TROUBLE SAVER.

When washing children's dresses or underwear with ribbon drawn through the following is a good plan and saves a lot of trouble, as no bodkin is required: Sew or pin to the end of the ribbon a piece of tape of the same length. Pull the ribbon out of the garment, leaving the tape in its place. When the garment is washed the ribbon is replaced in the same way.

It fills a Long felt Want

THE NEW SHOE SHINER.

WITH this simple piece of mechanism any woman may be her own shoe shiner, for she has only to place her boots, shoes or pumps over the properly sized form, fit it to the tip of the iron nose, clamp it firmly and apply the black, tan or white polish.

STATUE TO MOTHER-IN-LAW.

The mother-in-law is usually considered a very annoying and troublesome person, who is indirectly associated with all the worries between husband and wife. It is therefore surprising to record the tribute to a mother-in-law from her son's wife, no less a personage than the English Queen-Mother Alexandra. In the royal mausoleum at Frogmore is a beautiful statue of our Saviour, which was sent from Denmark by Alexandra's order, and on the base are inscribed the words "In memory of the best of mothers-in-law."

MODISH SET OF AUSTRALIAN CHINCHILLA.

The Value of System In the Household

It is not the woman who rushes in madly who accomplishes most. System is what counts. Have certain hours for certain duties.

Give yourself plenty of time for the performance of each duty, but no more than you are entitled to according to your plans made beforehand.

Five minutes' reflection at night is worth more than an hour's rush in the morning.

Let the busy woman see that her clothes are in order for the next day, that she has a clean change of linen with all the buttons on, that her shoes are well polished and her gloves and belt laid in plain sight.

If everything is at hand she should be able to take her bath and dress in half an hour. Then she may eat a leisurely breakfast and be ready for a good day's work.

That's what a little planning and foresight will do for her.

The woman whose house is run in the best order, who keeps her help the longest and has them best trained has a day for each duty.

She can in this way accomplish part of her work before her mistress is up, as well as plan tomorrow's labor the way her mistress does.

Method should always be used with respect to children. A child who knows what it is expected to do at a certain hour will eventually be trained into the routine of doing it, thus saving its mother many precious minutes.

The woman who has no method might just as well give up trying to accomplish anything in this world. She loses too much time through lack of forethought and planning.

Winterhalter Girls

THE appreciation for sloping shoulders, a synonym for all that was shrinking and tender and essentially feminine in the middle of the last century, is noticed again this season, and the evening aspect of many a winter's debutante will be that of Winterhalter's portraits of the beauties of 1840 and thereafter.

The corset is worn low upon the shoulders, and the outline is very simple. A few folds of gauze drawn beneath a large rose in the center suggest the bertha of old times that made so beautiful a frame for the figure.

Many girls of today have a charming faculty for adapting the prehistoric fashions of early Victorian days, improving upon them. It is needless to say. They dress their hair with the simple and demure grace of that period without its severity and wear the chalet of leaves and foliage that used to be almost an essential badge of girlhood with a new and very alluring grace.

Hand Bags to Be Smaller

THERE is every indication that hand bags are going to be smaller this fall than for several seasons. Women are tired of carrying bags as cumbersome as suit cases, wherever they go. Even the bag made like the dress shows the same tendency to shrink in size.

All that is needed to fill a bag that goes with a gown are a few toilet accessories, and there is no use in the clumsy things that have been serving the purpose. Cords to bags are also becoming shorter, though for bags that match gowns the cord must be long enough to swing the receptacle from the wrist. The Japanese bags with celluloid bars across the front and back each side the opening are the ones in general use.

Jewel Box In Bedstead

A WOMAN having a horror of burglars after having thought of all manner of means of keeping her jewelry safe has had one of the poets of her bedstead hollowed out to make a safe hiding place for her treasures. The jewels cannot be discovered by unscrewing the part about the hollowed out receptacle, for, although there is a removable head at the top of the post, there is also a second very cleverly arranged pedestal, which must be removed before the receptacle in which the jewels are placed can be found.

A SIMPLE PRECAUTION.

The wise woman sent a sudden vigorous puff of breath at the sight of steam rising from the copper teakettle she was filling and repeated it hastily as she filled the blue pot and set the kettle back on the stove with a nod of triumph. "That trick has saved me many a scalded hand," she asserted. "Whether I read it or was told it I am not sure, but until I tried it I was always getting the most painful burns."

TIME TO START PLANTS FOR WINDOW GARDEN

NOW is a good time to start your plants for the winter window garden. If care is taken in the selection of plants suitable for the situation to be given them, one can avoid disappointment. Many things will not grow in a house heated by gas, or even lighted by gas, unless certain precautions are taken, and these precautions vary with the kind of plants selected and the light given them.

For a west window geraniums and more geraniums are the very best for ordinary culture. All heat loving plants possess some powers of resistance to the obstacles to growth presented by the average west window. If one can have an east window many more things may be tried, the variety being larger. For a south window about all sunshine loving plants may be chosen, according to taste. For a north window the choice is more limited, but many beautiful things will grow in a north window where a good light can be had. Many plants will defy disaster if given the proper degree of moisture in the air, but few plants will grow and flourish with wet feet or in water soured soil. All these things must be given attention when planning for the window garden, and it is well to remember that plants are like children and require individual care, even plants of the same kind needing different care at times. Be sure to take a good floral magazine, one not too much devoted to the nursery interests of the editor and publisher. Unless you know something of plant culture you will make a bad job of even the easiest and hardest, but a little knowledge and a determination to learn, coupled with a real love for your plants, will go a long way toward success.

All About the House

TO CLEAN CORDUROY.

HOW many mothers have worried over the problem of cleaning baby's white corduroy coat satisfactorily and without having recourse to the professional cleaner.

The garments may be cleaned as often as necessary if these directions are remembered:

Shave very thinly a bar of soap pure soap, add with two tablespoonsful of kerosene to about half a pail of water.

Boil this mixture until it is reduced to one quarter. Use a small portion of this and plenty of water to cleanse the garment. When sufficiently cleansed hold the garment, spread out as much as possible while you rinse it up and down in clear cold water repeatedly. Be careful to have the nap running up.

When the pile is raised hang in the same position to dry. Be careful not to wring or otherwise touch the nap.

It should be fastened to the line with ordinary clothespins. If by some oversight the nap becomes flattened wait until the place is thoroughly dry, when a brisk rubbing with a hand broom will obviate the trouble.

SKIRT PADS.

SOME dressmakers frequently have difficulty in making skirts cut with the raised waist line hang straight in front at the line of the normal waist.

At this point the skirt breaks and is apt to show an ugly wrinkle, especially when the wearer is seated.

This can be obviated by making a small oblong pad of the skirt material and inserting it directly in front.

The pad is made four inches long and two inches wide and is placed lengthwise with the skirt. It can be tacked in place.

COPPER CASSEROLES.

AMONG the novelties for the table are tiny individual copper casseroles. These are highly bronzed and have small flat handles. Fish, eggs, etc., are some of the things that are served in them. They look very well on a dinner table and commend themselves because of novelty.

The housekeeper of today is always looking for something new. It is her pride and delight to set an original table and have something interesting for her guests to look at as well as to eat.

These little casseroles can be served at any meal. It is not necessary to keep them for a dinner entree. Shredded eggs go in them for breakfast and macaroni with cheese for lunch.

DISINFECT YOUR CARPET.

IF any article in the house furnishing needs disinfecting occasionally it is the carpet, especially if it has been used a considerable time.

The following is a method recommended both as a disinfectant and a preventive of moths:

Add three tablespoonsful of turpentine to three quarts of water, saturate a large sponge with this mixture, squeeze it almost two-thirds dry and squeeze over the carpet carefully.

As soon as the sponge becomes dirty cleanse it and immerse it in turpentine and water again. You will be surprised to see how bright and new it will make the carpet.

A FEW USEFUL HINTS.

STAINS made by medicines, and especially liniment marks, are among the most obstinate of removal and frequently tax amateur knowledge to the utmost. Iodine marks may, however, be successfully removed by means of liquid ammonia, a little of the spirit being poured into the saucer and the stained garment laid across it and the spot dabbed repeatedly with the fingers until it disappears. It should then be rinsed in tepid water and washed with strong soap in the usual manner.

FIRST FASHION SHOW TO OPEN HERE TODAY

Large Crowds Expected from All Over Valley to See Displays of Latest Modes and Fads of Fashion—Window Displays to be a Feature

Fresno's first fashion show will open today. The big three days' display of all that is nobbiest, smartest, most correct and most desirable in things to wear will be on with a rush when the stores of this city open for business today. The unique event will close Saturday night, and it is believed that then a new chapter will be written in advancement of things mercantile in the San Joaquin valley.

For days, within vello windows, the smartest have been preparing the most elaborate of displays assembled with a care never before exercised. Today, all the vells are to be drawn aside, and the street side of the show put out where he who runs may read the open book of fads and fashion.

But inside the stores, things more elaborate are prepared for the benefit of those who wish to see. Living models will wear ravishing gowns, orchestras will discourse music during the afternoons and Saturday evening, and garments will be exhibited with the express purpose of showing that one does not have to go to New York or Paris, or even to San Francisco, to be well gown.

The first of the elaborate window displays were thrown open last evening. But all will be exhibited today. Work has been in progress on some of these since last Monday.

Special round trip rates of a fare and a third have been granted by the railroad. With Governor Hiram Johnson due to speak here tomorrow night, and with "Pennell" day coming up Saturday, and the county fair on a larger scale than ever before right afterward, it is believed Fresno is going to have a very large crowd this week.

RUN FOR ROOMS

In fact, requests for reservations of rooms have been pouring in at the hotels. Though this is the only hotel in the city that has begun to work regularly yet, it is taken as an indication that all the crowd expected will be centralized from other valley towns because of the reduced rates and the combined attractions.

The following statement on the stocks in the show was given out yesterday on behalf of the stores taking part in the show:

The Fresno Fashion Show is going to do more to place Fresno among progressive towns than any event that has been held here in years. Since the merchants decided to hold a Fashion Show they have been getting more rare and expensive fabrics than would have come to Fresno in years in the ordinary course of business. It will place Fresno far ahead as a trading center and will be an education to everyone in new kinds of goods. It will place Fresno in the same class with the foremost cities in the matter of up-to-date styles.

The goods on display cover quite a wide range. There will be all kinds of wearing apparel for men and women, there will be millinery, hair goods, and leather goods and toilet articles. These are all things that may be tastefully displayed, and then, all the merchants and their employees have given their best thought and research to the problem of getting the displays up in unique form. There should be some rare results. A great number of the brightest minds in Fresno have been directed along these lines for some weeks and there is no doubt that there will be some great results.

STYLES IN CANES

The cane fall is also now attracting a good deal of attention, and more of them are appearing on the streets. In fact, the word now goes out that to be in the very last mode, a man will have to pay as much attention to his cane as to his hat, and, for instance, have light canes for the lighter colors of his shirt, and dark or even black for his shirts of more sober tone. In fact, as many different styles in canes as in hats are being shown.

The stores taking part in the Fashion Show are: Elmslie's, Inc., E. Gottschalk & Co., Kutner-Goldstein Co., Radin & Kamp, The Woodmen Co., George McKinlay & Son, Martin Bros., Wenden Leather Goods Co., Mrs. Porter's Hat Shop, Mrs. Traut-

SMITH IN STATEMENT, IS SUPPORTED BY MORTIMER

Finney Tried to Secure "Shading" of City License for Parade.

Fugitive Witness Not Likely to Show Face in Fresno Again.

Denied an opportunity to present his case in court by the flight of the complaining witness, George A. Smith, county license collector, yesterday made a statement of the facts connected with the circus license, and this statement is confirmed at salient points by City License Collector Mortimer, who also had dealings with the absent Mr. Finney.

Following the custom of the office for many years, Smith the day before the circus was to show obtained from the auditor two license blanks, one for the main circus and the other for the side show.

When Finney appeared representing the circus he was shown the licenses and asked to sign the records. Finney then made a suggestion that the show license be recalled. This was peremptorily refused. There was never any suggestion of a second license not being collected. No second license had ever been collected and nothing whatsoever was said about a second license.

The records showed no such license. Finney after much argument finally got down to a suggestion that $250 be knocked off. While this was being talked, he asked how many tickets the office could use. Smith answered that last year the office was given seventy for distribution in the courthouse. Finney made a great deal about this number, and a B. Smith, the tax collector, hearing this part of the discussion, said, "If that gentleman thinks that he is to receive any consideration for those tickets, don't accept a single one. Finney disclaimed any improper motive, apologized and chatted on general topics with Mr. Smith for some time. He said that it was his business to save the circus as much money as possible.

Returning to George A. Smith, Finney said he did not have sufficient money with him, and offered to pay $75 down and the balance at the grounds. "Oh, no, I don't do business with circus men that way," said young Smith. He offered to take Finney to the grounds in his automobile, whereat the circus man said that was unnecessary and asked Smith to direct him to the drug store where tickets were being sold. He then paid the license.

Mortimer's experience with Finney was over the city license of $20 for a parade. After being shown the license Finney complained of the amount, when he was told by Mortimer that it was up to him, if he did not want to pay it he need not have a parade. Finney thereupon talked of the value and beauty of circus parade, how to many it was the best part of a circus, how the citizens and particularly the business men would be disappointed, etc. He spoke vaguely of "shading" the license, saying, as he had told Smith that it was his business to save the circus all the money he could and finally, holding a bunch of tickets in his left hand, he said: "Just to the extent that you can make this reasonable for me, I can take care of the boys in the office."

This direct offer of bribery was not resented. Finney quickly paid the license and proceeded to depart.

"I did not like the look of the man," said Mortimer yesterday in discussing the incident. "He was a characteristic circus tout, bent upon trying to escape paying the regular license paid by all circuses."

Those familiar with Finney's tactics are convinced that he will not show his face in Fresno again.

KEARNEY AVENUE IS ROUTE FAVORED BY COMMERCE CHAMBER.

Giffen Uses Casting Vote to Decide Question of Highway.

OPPOSITION IS STRONG

Mattingly Asks Roll Call to Get a Record of "No" Votes.

By the use of his casting vote as chairman of the board of directors of the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, President Wyatt M. Giffen yesterday afternoon placed the body on record as favoring the Skaggs bridge and Kearney avenue route for the state highway. Directors John W. Short and Henry Lawson voted for the motion and W. T. Mattingly and J. D. Morgan against. Mattingly called for the yeas and nays in order that the dissenting votes might be registered on the permanent minutes.

The matter was brought before the board by Henry Lawson, who appeared armed with some typewritten notes giving data in favor of the Kearney route, which was insisted for before the supervisors by the people of Kernman. It was pointed out, when he opened the discussion, that the matter is up to the State Highway Commission, and recommendations for this county have been forwarded by the supervisors, who recommended both routes suggested—that paralleling the S. P. tracks through this county, and that by way of Skaggs bridge, Maters avenue and Kearney avenue into Fresno.

Immediately opposition to Lawson's proposition developed and a defense for his position. Director Short stated that the state has interests in the Kearney route that might have weight in deflecting the road in that direction. President Giffen declared that he believed the road, as a route for tourists, should be carried through the best part of the county, and should for this reason, take in the Kearney avenue. He also said that, personally, he believed the road should be deflected east from Fresno, and not made to go down by Fowler, Selma and Kingsburg, as former local country may be found lying southeast of this city.

SAYS IS IMPROPER. Director Mattingly then made the statement that he was opposed to the chamber going on record in the matter at all. He said he did not consider it a proper matter for the directors to take upon themselves to decide, as so many people were individually affected. He further argued that sentiment in some sections would undoubtedly condemn the action. J. D. Morgan supported this position. He announced in the first round of his is committed to the railroad route, which is the most direct. He also said a declaration in favor of Kernman and Kearney avenue would undoubtedly arouse protest from Clovis and Selma and the rest of the east side.

It was pointed out that these towns want the road as near them as possible, if they cannot have it pass through them. Then, they have a plan for running a branch over from the Hernon crossing, which plan would not be feasible if the road were made to cross so far down the river as Skaggs bridge.

Further, it was argued that opportunity for the tourist to see Kernman would probably be given, as the building of the state road would probably stimulate various communities to build good commercial branches.

The direct route argument was challenged by Lawson, who said that if this principle were strictly adhered to, Fresno would be cut out of the plan altogether, and the road should go straight through from the north of the valley to Bakersfield, some ten miles to the east of this city. Further, he said absolute directness between cities was not so very essential, as the road will not be designed as the old Roman roads were, to secure most direct routes for freight and war supplies between important cities. On the other hand, it would not be run for over local freighting, he argued, but for tourist travel primarily, and the tourist business could be best served by having the road go through the show places of the county.

"ADVISE COMMISSION. For a final record that the matter would be abandoned, because of Mattingly's protest against having the motion put. However, presently, Lawson presented a written motion, to the effect that the chamber respectfully adopt the highway commission to adopt the Kearney route. Rayson and Short voted ye and Mattingly and Morgan no, and President Giffen remarked:

"Well, if I'm to settle it, I'm in favor of the motion." The motion had been seconded by Short, after a careful analysis of the word "advise." Mattingly called for a division in order to get the votes registered on the minutes and the roll call showed the same votes cast by the directors present.
